Vote Is Feared

At seven o'clock Tuesday morning Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Voter of New Castle and Lawrence County start going to the polls to participate in one of the most important primary election in years, but from the surface indications for the past several weeks a lot of the voters won't be there. Like the other counties in the state, interest seems to be lagging here and seems to point to a light vote.

Over the week-end the usual last-minute frenzy was apparent among workers, many clubs made endorsements, rumors of last-minute "deals" filled the air, but in the main the general public seemed to be interested in the election but little.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pastors and laymen of the Methodist churches of New Castle and Lawrence county will leave on Tuesday for Meadville where they will attend the sessions of the annual Erie conference, to be held at Allegheny college. The conference lasts throughout the week.

Tomorrow is primary election day. Important selections of candidates for both the Republican and Democratic parties in New Castle and Lawrence county are to be made, and there should be a heavy vote cast in the primaries of both parties.

Fall is certainly descending early in this section this year. In addition to ripe pumpkins being seen in the county several weeks early, Pa Newscasters a field of corn along the Wilmington road that is already cut and in shock.

Section of Jefferson street between Wilmington avenue and Laurel avenue, recently paved, is now open for traffic and is being much used. The remainder of the street to Garfield avenue is in the course of being paved, and will soon be ready for traffic.

Tomorrow's election will be an unusual one in New Castle and Lawrence county in that there are no special issues on the ballots in any district in the city or county. Usually bond issues, liquor questions, movies, etc. are to be voted on in some districts, but there is a complete absence of these issues in the Tuesday balloting.

Ches Dean, ex-Hi grid star, who goes in for fishing and hunting in a big way, hooked himself a fine muskie in the vicinity of Foxburg on the Allegheny river during the past week, the finny monster measuring 31½ inches in length, and gave him quite a tussle before he finally landed it.

Report Bomber Forces U-Boat To Surrender

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 8.—One of the strangest battles of the war—an encounter between an R. A. F. Hudson bomber and a German submarine in which the aircraft was victorious—was announced officially in London today.

The weird fight, during which the U-boat was severely damaged and formed to surrender, was carried out while a full gale whipped the surface of the sea.

The British announcement said a Hudson bomber on patrol recently sighted the U-boat forcing it to come to the surface, severely damaged. Unable to resist further attacks, the submarine surrendered.

With a full gale blowing and no other ships in the vicinity, the Hudson hovered over the scene until it was relieved by a Catalina flying boat, which continued the patrol until warships arrived.

The latter waited until the weather moderated, whereupon a prize crew boarded the submarine and towed it to a British harbor.

Authorities in London said it was "highly doubtful" that the captured submarine was the one which clashed with the United States destroyer Greer last Thursday.

Philadelphia-Pittsburgh Have Factional Battles In Primary Election Tuesday

By EVERETT GERRY

HARRISBURG, Sept. 8.—Bitter factional struggles for the control of party machinery in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh held the spotlight today in the closing hours of the September primary campaign.

In spite of this rivalry and challenges elsewhere to county leadership, fewer than 50 per cent. of the state's 4,730,000 registered voters were expected to go to the polls tomorrow. Republicans held a registration lead of nearly 600,000 over the Democrats, according to available figures.

Contests over the Republican nomination for offices in Philadelphia and the campaign to re-elect Mayor Cornelius D. Scully of Pittsburgh with the backing of National Democratic Committeemen David L. Lawrence, have attracted statewide attention.

In virtually all other counties Republican and Democratic "organization" leaders were challenged by independents bent on winning a (Continued On Page Two)

New Demand Made On Iran

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 8.—A new British demand to the Iranian government to intern or expel German citizens from Iran was revealed by British authorities today.

The latest demand, insisting upon internment or expulsion of the Germans whether they have diplomatic status or are in Iran on any other grounds, was lodged at Téhéran on Friday.

The new demand followed occupation of Iran by British and Russian troops following refusal of the Iranian government to heed previous Anglo-Russian warnings regarding infiltration of Germans into the strategic oil-producing middle eastern country.

Large Axis Convoy Arrives At Samos

(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 8.—Arrival of a large Axis convoy of steamers and fishing boats laden with troops and supplies at the Greek island of Samos, off Turkey's west coast, was reported today in an Ankara dispatch to the London Daily Sketch.

Turkish fishermen were quoted as saying they had sighted the convoy near Samos. The message said at least one Italian division has landed on the island.

Vets To Resume Range Activities

Tuesday evening at eight o'clock, Neshaunock post, No. 315, V. P. W., will start its fall program on the indoor range at the post headquarters on East Washington street, when those interested will meet with the committee to get the program for the winter outlined.

The meeting is for all members of the post and any veteran eligible for membership, the committee announcing, and teams will be formed to take part in competitive events during the winter.

MOSCOW, Sept. 8.—While heavy fighting continued along the entire Russo-German front, the Soviet high command today announced renewed guerilla raids by Cossack horsemen once more had spread chaos and death behind the Nazi lines.

The regular noon war communiqué stated merely that fighting continued all night on the whole front.

But a supplementary war bulletin said a German general had been killed and a Nazi battalion routed with the loss of 1,200 dead by a Cossack unit which seized a German staff headquarters behind the lines.

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
BERLIN, Sept. 8.—Twenty-seven persons were killed during the night when R. A. F. planes attacked Berlin, it was announced officially today.

Three bombers were shot down over the city. Six others were brought down over other parts of the Reich, the announcement said.

The statement added 3,853 German civilians had been killed by R. A. F. raids from the outbreak of the war up to August 2. Most of these were said to have been killed in a few city districts.

Bright moonlight flooded the sky when the British bombers attacked. Ground defenses sent up a heavy barrage of anti-aircraft fire and several burning planes were seen plunging to earth.

An official announcement this morning said British bombers penetrated western and northern Germany many during the night and that one formation dropped explosives and incendiaries on Berlin, killing and injuring a number of civilians.

According to the German news agency DNB, one of the British planes destroyed Saturday may have been an American-built flying fortress. The German account said a "four-engine British bomber" was shot down while raiding Oslo, Norway, Saturday and that two members of the crew were taken prisoner.

(The London air ministry, announcing a flying fortress daylight attack on Oslo Saturday, said all of the American-built bombers had returned safely to their bases.)

(A Stockholm dispatch to the London Daily Express said the raid occurred while Nazi Leader Major Vidkun Quisling opened a Nordic exhibition.)

Love Returns To Canadian Service

Robert Greer Love, pilot officer in the Canadian R. A. F. who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Love of North Jefferson street left this morning for Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Pilot Love was the first American to be accepted as an officer in aeronautical engineering by the Canadian R. A. F. He has been stationed at Montreal, Que., but has been transferred to Winnipeg, where he will be officer in charge of maintenance. In this capacity he will be responsible for the mechanical condition of the planes in his charge and his duties will include going up with test pilots.

Over 14,000 Thrill To Performances At State Police Rodeo

After the two-show rodeo of the Pennsylvania State Motor Police held at the fair ground Saturday afternoon and evening about 14,000 folks hereabouts are willing to agree to a lot of things. One of them would be that the police are extremely modest in their advertising, another is that we should have the rodeo here regularly and another is that the state boys have a show that is a combination of a Roman circus, a wild west show, a military parade and a convention of sharpshooters.

The rodeo was one of those successes the press agents usually refer to as "star studded, thrill packed and spine tingling". The P. A.'s were always a crew to splash around superlatives like whitewash on a cellar wall but we won't talk about that.

Nation Mourns With President In Death Of His Patrician Mother

PRIVATE FUNERAL
RITES ON TUESDAY

Death Took Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt On Sunday Afternoon At Hyde Park

By GEORGE DURNON
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)
HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 8.—A sympathetic nation overloaded telegraph wires today with messages of condolence to President Roosevelt as he quietly mourned the death of his patrician mother, the 86-year-old Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt.

Arrangements were in progress for a most intimate funeral Tuesday in the Hudson Valley estate where the President was born, and where his mother died at 12:15 p. m. Sunday after a night-long vigil at her bedside by her distinguished son and the First Lady.

Funeral Rites Private

An emphasis was placed on the desire of the family to keep the final rites as private as possible. It had been requested that no flowers be sent and innumerable official figures were told over the telephone that only members of the family and a few very close friends and neighbors of the President's mother's approximate age would be expected at the services.

The death of Hyde Park's grand dame, postponed until Thursday night a world-wide radio broadcast by the Chief Executive which will be of "major importance."

Mr. Roosevelt had started preparation of this speech Saturday afternoon with the intention of delivering it tonight over every radio facility at his command. His mother, whom he had made a special trip home to see at that time was confined to her room, but her condition was not thought to be so serious. Late Saturday night, however, succumbing finally to her advanced age, the President's mother lapsed into unconsciousness.

Congregation Is Accorded
Fine Welcome Sunday

TO BRING FAMILY
HERE ON TUESDAY

At the First Baptist church, Sunday, Rev. Oliver W. Hurst, formerly pastor of the Wyoming Baptist church, Philadelphia, assumed the pastorate of the First church, and was enthusiastically received. Rev. Hurst succeeds Dr. C. H. Heaton, who concluded a pastorate of seven years, April 30, 1940, and is now pastor of the First Baptist church, New Kensington.

First Service

In the main auditorium, a large audience greeted Rev. Oliver W. Hurst, the new pastor, at the opening session of the Sunday school, at 9:30 a. m.

Paul D. Weller, superintendent, with a few words of greeting, called upon Rev. Hurst, who said he appreciated the hearty welcome extended to him by the officers, teachers, and members of the Sunday school, and believed that he and they would work harmoniously together for the accomplishment of much effective work.

Raid On Berlin "Heaviest

By MERRILL MUELLER
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Sept. 8.—One year to the day from the start of Germany's "blitz" attacks upon London, hundreds of British bombers last night and early this morning carried out the "heaviest attack yet" upon Berlin, a survey revealed this afternoon.

It was on the night of September 7, 1940, that the Nazi Luftwaffe first came over London in full force, transforming the city's dockland areas into what German commentators rightly called a "sea of flames."

21 Planes Missing

Indicating the vast scope of last night's operations over Berlin and elsewhere, the air ministry announced that 21 British planes are missing.

An authoritative statement said: "Twenty of our bombers failed to return from Berlin, Kiel and Boulogne, while one night fighter was lost attacking over a French airfield."

"Four enemy night fighters were destroyed."

"The attack on Berlin lasted for two hours and was carried out by a very powerful force in brilliant moonlight."

"A great number of high explosives and incendiaries were dropped. Great fires sprang up, causing extensive damage."

"The shipyards at Kiel and the docks at Boulogne were heavily bombed. Good results were seen."

"The usually conservative air ministry itself termed the raid the 'heaviest yet' and announced that huge fires were left blazing in the heart of the Nazi capital."

Naval Base Bombed

The huge naval base at Kiel and the Nazi-occupied French channel port of Boulogne also were heavily raided.

An official communiqué said: "Our first bombers arrived just before midnight and the last well into the small hours."

Over 14,000 Thrill To Performances At State Police Rodeo

After the two-show rodeo of the Pennsylvania State Motor Police held at the fair ground Saturday afternoon and evening about 14,000 folks hereabouts are willing to agree to a lot of things. One of them would be that the police are extremely modest in their advertising, another is that we should have the rodeo here regularly and another is that the state boys have a show that is a combination of a Roman circus, a wild west show, a military parade and a convention of sharpshooters.

The rodeo was one of those successes the press agents usually refer to as "star studded, thrill packed and spine tingling". The P. A.'s were always a crew to splash around superlatives like whitewash on a cellar wall but we won't talk about that.

Two Huge Crowds

By a check of the admissions the total crowd seems to have been slightly in excess of 14,000. Over 10,000 adults went through the gates

Name Boyd To Head Pennsylvania U. C. T.

H. H. Boyd of Sharon is the new grand councillor of the United Commercial Travelers in Pennsylvania. Boyd was chosen Sunday at Pittsburgh to fill the unexpired term of the late George L. Ryne, also of Sharon, when the grand executive committee convened. Charles A. Brookover of this city, chairman of the executive group, said.

Shortly after Brookover's committee named Boyd, affiliated with Westinghouse at Sharon, a group of western Pennsylvania leaders of the U. C. T. heard A. L. Franklin of Columbus, the U. C. T.'s supreme secretary, speak. Others from New Castle were John Lauer, senior councillor here, and J. W. Anderson,

To Move Germans In Volga To Siberia

Soviet Moves To Prevent Sabotage

Mass Exodus Is Ordered By Russia With All Possible Speed

THOUSANDS OF GERMANS AFFECTED

(International News Service)
MOSCOW, Sept. 8.—Determined to prevent Nazi springing the Soviet presidium today ordered the entire German population shifted from the Volga region of Russia to Siberia.

The presidium stipulated the mass exodus of German inhabitants of the area be resettled in Siberia with all possible speed.

The Germans, whose numbers were declared to include "tens of thousands of spies," will be settled in regions adjacent to Omsk and Novosibirsk in Siberia and elsewhere and will be given land to support themselves.

The Volga territory lies north of the Caspian sea in the Saratov region. A majority of its residents are of German extraction.

Thousands of Germans have lived in the Volga region since the 18th century, when Catherine the Great invited settlers into Russia from southern Germany.

voice in party affairs. Candidates for mayor also will be nominated in Scranton and a score more third class cities.

Only Statewide Contests
Only statewide contests in the primary will be for justice of the state supreme court and judge of the superior court. Judicial offices will be filled, however, in 65 counties.

Judge W. Russell Carr, Fayette County, and Judge Michael A. Musmanno, Allegheny, were favored to capture the Democratic nomination, respectively, for the supreme and superior courts. Both are backed by the Democratic state organization.

Opposing them without organized support are Judge Samuel E. Shull, Monroe, for supreme court, and Paul W. Mahady, Westmoreland, for superior court.

Stated to win the Republican nomination are Justice William M. Parker, of the state supreme court, and Judge Charles E. Kenworthy, of the superior court, who were named to those posts by Gov. Arthur H. James. Both were endorsed by the Republican state committee.

Running against Parker is Earl V. Compton, of Harrisburg, former chief assistant to District Attorney Carl B. Shelley of Dauphin County, and a prosecutor of the Democratic campaign charges case in 1938. Kenworthy is opposed to Arthur C. Dale, Bellefonte, former chairman of the state workmen's compensation board.

There are 165 candidates for the 65 county judicial offices. Ninety-six towns will vote on the retail sale of liquor or beer within their precincts, or fewer than one-fifth of the total number of communities which raised the local option issue at the polls two years ago.

SOLOS AT PORT
George McGinnis, of East Palestine, O., soloed an airplane at the New Castle Airport for the first time on Friday. He had completed a course of flight instruction at the local port prior to the solo hop.

HUNDREDS OF BRITISH PLANES BOMB BERLIN

the west of the capital shining in the moonlight and soon found the center of the capital.

"One flight sergeant said: 'We could see the place like a map...'

"Soon there were many fires. One of them in particular was blazing fiercely as a guide to later bombers."

A great many high explosives were seen to burst around the main railroad station. Columns of smoke poured upwards. The glow of many fires was visible from miles away as the bombers departed.

"The Berlin city defenses were most alert. Cones of searchlights swept the sky. Anti-aircraft barrage was intense, and was only stopped to permit German night fighters to approach. At least one of the latter was shot down by an R. A. F. bomber."

Many Bombs Dropped
British authorities declared that a "very powerful" R. A. F. force attacked Berlin in bright moonlight and that a great number of high explosive and incendiary bombs were dropped on the city.

They added that "good results" were seen everywhere.

These same quarters in London said "hundreds of bombers" participated in last night's offensive operations and that by far the heaviest portion of these concentrated on Berlin.

Some of the heaviest bombers in the ever-growing R. A. F. long-distance, high-flying attack fleet participated in the Berlin raid.

Late this morning the British Press Association circulated the following authorized statement: "Last night's attack on Berlin was one of the largest ever organized for an attack on the German capital."

"It was heavy in weight and was carried out with success."

(An official German announcement said nine British planes were shot down over German territory last night.)

British authorities said perfect flying weather prevailed for the attack on Berlin.

Nazis Bomb Britain
While the R. A. F. dropped tons of bombs on enemy objectives, German raiders attacked various parts of Britain.

An air ministry communique said the German night assaults were confined to the east coasts of England and Scotland and that bombs were dropped on places along the southeast coast and a point in eastern England, causing damages and a few casualties.

Elsewhere, this announcement stated, damage was slight.

Boulogne took a terrific drubbing from the British planes. Great fires burned along the Boulogne waterfront all night and this morning could be seen from the English coast, still smoldering.

The attack on Boulogne began under brilliant moonlight. Hundreds of Britons gathered along the Kent shoreline watching as a chain of fires reddened the sky above Boulogne while R. A. F. planes dropped bombs on the waterfront for 90 minutes.

Spectators with field glasses saw flames leap high into the air.

During the German night raids, dive bombers wrecked two inns and damaged a number of houses and shops in one southwest coast town causing some casualties.

Other raiders machine-gunned a northeast coast town and bombs were dropped on another point in the northeast.

BREAKS GOOD RECORD

McDowell School Reunion Event

Former Pupils Gather In Hickory Township For Annual Reunion Saturday

The McDowell school reunion was held Saturday, September 6, at the old homestead in Hickory township, when a large number of former teachers and pupils and their families gathered for their annual revival of old friendships and old memories.

Dinner at the noon hour was followed by a meeting, conducted by President Melville Jordan. Due to the enforced absence of Mrs. Jenny Smith, the chair of secretary was filled by Mrs. Louella Jordan.

Officers elected for the coming year are: George Patterson, president; Bud Dicks, vice-president; Mrs. Jenny Smith, secretary, and Mrs. Margaret Houston, treasurer.

Mrs. Cora Rodgers Tucker, former teacher, gave a very enjoyable reading and George Patterson entertained the group with his recollections of the old school days. Other brief addresses were given by Mrs. Maude Minter and Mrs. Nettie Duff.

Guests of honor were Mrs. Rebecca McDowell, aged 94, and Mr. and Mrs. Tucker of New Bedford.

Next week's reunion will be held at the same place on the first Saturday after Labor Day.

Conference Ends Here On Sunday

Sandusky Conference Of United Brethren Is Concluded Last Night

In Court Room No. 1 at the Court House, Sunday, the concluding services of the Sandusky Conference of the United Brethren were held, when the room was filled to capacity at each meeting.

Commencing at 9:00 a. m., the love feast and testimonial meeting was in charge of Rev. R. G. Fraker of Bowling Green, O. Bishop W. E. Musgrave of Huntington, Ind., delivered an inspiring message on the theme, "Stephen the Martyr."

Rev. Ralph Gallagher of Helena, O., delivered the sermon in the afternoon, taking as his subject, "Christian Education."

At the evening service, Bishop Musgrave was the preacher, closing with a powerful sermon.

Rev. Homer Price, recently resigned pastor of the North Crawford Avenue United Brethren church, commences his work as field evangelist of the Conference, at East Liverpool, O., holding three weeks' services there, beginning on Wednesday evening. Rev. Price has secured a large, very complete house car for himself and family.

Rev. Price will be succeeded by Rev. E. T. Wyler of Bethel, O. Rev. J. Bomer of Bethel church, Stanton avenue, and Rev. Orlo Gee of Valley View church, have been returned by the conference to their pastorates here.

Dr. Roger Waggoner Dies At Oliver, Ga.

Dr. Roger Waggoner, Cousin Of Mrs. A. G. Crawford, This City, Passes Away Sunday

Mrs. A. G. Crawford, of Huron avenue, has received word of the death of her cousin, Dr. Roger Waggoner, residing at Oliver, Ga., who passed away Sunday afternoon, Sept. 7.

The deceased was a surgeon, well known and highly esteemed. He was a World War veteran, losing a leg in the fighting lines, from which injury he never fully recovered.

Besides his wife, Lucille, he leaves a daughter and one grandchild.

SHACK TAKES FIRE
Firemen were called to Friendship street at 11:32 o'clock Sunday night, where a kids' shanty was found ablaze. The fire was extinguished by the booster of B truck.

OVER 14,000 THRILL TO PERFORMANCES AT STATE POLICE RODEO

for fear a cinch would slip, and the sharp shooting exhibition had the customers weary in the arms and hands from applauding.

Col. Adams Satisfied
Col. Lynn G. Adams, commissioner of the state police, was pleased and satisfied with the success of the shows and said so in no uncertain words. He attended both shows.

Col. Jacob C. Mauk, commander of the first squadron, had a broad smile on after the rodeo and the major was never one to waste a smile on something unimportant.

Major Thomas F. Martin, director of the show, and Lieutenant Andrew J. Hudok expressed their entire satisfaction with it. And to the committee headed by Louis B. Round, as chairman and B. N. Hanlon, the executive secretary, have a lot of reason to be pleased for their efforts bloomed with results.

The rodeo was first suggested for New Castle by men of the local barracks of the state police. A group of local citizens interested themselves in it and Captain Roger W. Rowland, then secretary of property and supplies, asked to aid in getting the show for New Castle. Through his good offices it was secured and the local committee and the local barracks went to work. The rodeo Saturday repaid them all amply for the work that had been done.

Pension Fund Benefits
Just what the net proceeds will be, which go to the police pension fund, will not be known for a little while. Aside from this important feature of the rodeo, it was a lesson in physical fitness and dexterity that impressed the adults. For the youngsters, the show certainly will leave its impress in later years. Back of the rodeo is the ideal of the police that youngsters will get the idea that the state police in Pennsylvania are men who can ride like cowboys, outshoot gamblers and maneuver like soldiers, all in the interest of law and order.

The Red Cross was present with first aid help, the mobile unit rescue squad of the New Castle fire department was on the job and the Boy Scouts acted as aides to the police in charge of ushering and traffic.

So far as is known not an untoward incident marked the rodeo. The volume of traffic was handled efficiently, there was no jamming at the grounds in short the show and its attending features were handled in the usual P. M. P. manner. Nothing better can be said than that.

MANY MESSAGES OF SYMPATHY ARE SENT TO PRESIDENT

Mrs. Roosevelt somewhat reluctantly sent her son forth into the field of national politics.

Present with the Chief Executive and the First Lady were three grandsons—all of them in the armed services of the nation. A fourth grandson was at sea with the north Atlantic neutrality patrol. Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Boettiger, only granddaughter, was notified in Seattle but there was some question whether she would be able to reach here for the funeral services.

Capt. James Roosevelt, of the Marine Corps, and his wife, Capt. Elliott Roosevelt of the Army Air Service, and his wife, and Ensign John Roosevelt of the Navy, and his wife, arrived Sunday. Ensign Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. was notified by Navy radio aboard the U. S. S. Mayrant somewhere at sea.

Mrs. Price Collier, only surviving sister of the President's mother, and Frederic A. Delano, her younger brother, also were with the family.

Funeral Plans
The funeral will be conducted at the beautiful estate from the porch of which the President's mother three times saw her son acclaimed by friends and neighbors as a duly elected chief executive of the United States.

Rev. Frank R. Wilson will conduct the services and interment will take place immediately thereafter in the family plot of St. James Episcopal church graveyard.

Mrs. Roosevelt will be laid to final rest alongside her husband, James Roosevelt, to whom she was married on October 7, 1880, to join two of New York's most distinguished families.

In keeping with Hudson Valley tradition, Mrs. Roosevelt will be buried at the left of her husband in the picturesque graveyard behind the ivy-colored church. To the right of the President's father—who died when the Chief Executive was 18—is his grandmother, Rebecca. At one corner of the plot is the grave of President and Mrs. Roosevelt's third child, christened Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., who died at the age of five months in 1909.

The President's decision to make his broadcast Thursday night despite his mother's death gave fair indication of the seriousness with which he views the international situation.

Late Sunday, White House Secretary William D. Hassett brought word back from the home that arrangements originally made for tonight would stand Thursday at 9 p. m. E. S. T., over all three major networks with re-broadcasts in 14 languages.

BRANNIGAN'S NEPHEW DIES IN HOSPITAL

News arrived here today that Joe Duffy, 25, of 2455 California avenue, Pittsburgh, who was in an auto accident Friday night in that city, had died in a Pittsburgh hospital and would be buried Wednesday in Pittsburgh. He is a nephew of Patsy Brannigan, former bantamweight boxer of this city.

Deaths of the Day

Thomas L. Shilton.
News of the death in Easton of Thomas L. Shilton, of that city, on Sunday at 6 a. m., was learned here today.

Mr. Shilton was a brother of Edwin B. Shilton, of 508 East Winter avenue.

He was preceded in death by his wife, but surviving is a daughter, Mrs. John Ragonetti, Jr., of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., and two sisters, Mrs. Wade Coene, Alhambra, Cal., and Mrs. Ruth Sparks, Pittsburgh.

Funeral services, the message said, will be conducted from 117 McCarty street, Easton, at 11 a. m. (Daylight time) on Wednesday, September 10.

Mrs. Cunningham Services.
Requiem high mass in repose of the soul of the late Mrs. Catherine Cunningham, 23 West Falls street, was celebrated this morning in St. Mary's church, at 10 o'clock, with the Rev. Fr. Leo S. Watterson as celebrant.

Pallbearers were: Robert and Thomas Cunningham, Robert Wein-gartner, Wade Thompson, Thomas Cubellis and George Latsko.

Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery and Rev. Fr. William F. Galvin had charge of the committal service at the side of the grave.

Mrs. Alexander Funeral
Largely attended funeral services for the late Mrs. Edward Alexander, of 818 Maryland avenue, were conducted from the residence, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. J. Calvin Rose was in charge.

Pallbearers were: Joseph McMillin, Frank Palmer, Oscar Alexander, John Alexander, Clem Parker and Robert C. Young.

Interment was made in Castle View cemetery.

VonBerg Funeral.
The funeral of the late George V. VonBerg of Enon Valley, was conducted from his home on Saturday at 2 o'clock by the Rev. Robert Dyke of the Enon Valley Christian church.

Pallbearers were: Sid Cook, John Imboden, Marion Imboden, John McNeese, Carl Zeh and Ed Duignan.

Interment was at the Little Beaver cemetery.

News Briefs From City Hall

Council convened this morning in city hall and authorized the city engineer and W. P. A. to proceed with the paving of DuShane street between Division street and Lutton street. The street will be widened to 32 feet.

Director of Streets William H. Dunlap today reported to colleagues that paving of North Jefferson street, north of Wilmington avenue, had been opened as far as Laurel avenue.

Police Sgt. G. C. Syling and Patrolman George Rigby today took to the Allegheny county workhouse to serve 5 months and 29 days Thomas Cox, colored, Columbus, O., and James Burley, colored, this city. They were sentenced by Mayor Charles B. Mayne Cox was allegedly connected with a disorderly house and Burley was reportedly connected with the loss of $50 by a local man in a Moravia street house recently, police reports asserted.

Charles D. Schweikert, 202 Bluff street, reported the theft September 6 of his 1937 Chevrolet from the lot of Sears Roebuck company. He left the keys in the car and went into the store to transact business and while gone the auto was stolen.

REV. O. W. HURST BEGINS PASTORATE

In several songs, James Callahan and his orchestra gave a number of selections, with Mrs. S. J. Callahan at the piano. Rev. Archie Gibson, of the City Rescue Mission, introduced Miss Ruth Jean Page, of the Erie Mission, who sang a couple of solos, with Mrs. Gomer Emery at the piano.

A large congregation attended the morning service to hear the pastor's initial sermon on the theme "For Victory," which was quite forceful.

Rev. Hurst spoke of the death of Dr. John Snape, in Los Angeles, California, September 5, a former pastor, from 1903-1907, and said John W. Owens would lead a memorial service in his honor. The congregation sang one of Dr. Snape's favorite hymns, and Mr. Owens delivered an eulogy. The pastor requested the church clerk Miss Verlee Armstrong to send a night letter to Mrs. Snape and daughter Alice, extending the sympathy and best wishes of the congregation.

At the evening service there was a large attendance, when the pastor delivered an inspiring sermon on the subject "The Face of Jesus Christ."

The pastor announced that he had received a communication from Dr. C. H. Heaton, New Kensington, former pastor, sending him congratulations and best wishes for a successful pastorate.

Rev. Hurst left this morning for Philadelphia, and expects to return Tuesday evening, bringing with him Mrs. Hurst and their two children.

front and said the red air force dealt "massive blows to enemy troops and airdromes." It added that a German submarine had been captured in the northern sea of Barents.

"Twenty-three German planes and 11 Russian planes were destroyed in encounters on Friday," this communique stated.

"Terror Raids"
Russian press dispatches said the Luftwaffe was pounding Leningrad's communications and defenses and "trying to strike at morale by terror raids" on small localities south of the city.

These reports added that the Rybinsk and Volgograd railways remain open behind the Moscow-Leningrad line and that these two railways are protected by heavy marshes in the event the Germans close the main route.

While the battle for possession of Leningrad raged forward, it was claimed, other sectors of the front now have been stabilized.

(The London Daily Mail reported from Stockholm that Soviet Marshal Timoshenko on the central front has launched a terrific counter-attack on the central front of the northwest with the aim of relieving Marshal Voroshilov in the Leningrad area.)

(The Daily Express said hundreds of Nazi bombers and Stuka dive bombers launched mass attacks on Voroshilov's lines around Leningrad commencing one of the Luftwaffe's "major blitzes.")

FAITH ELECTION

Tamorrow is the day the voters either re-employ or employ new people to take care of their business, as city and county officials.

Everyone that is eligible to do so should vote, and in voting should forget party lines, and use the same judgment that big business is using today—selecting the best of men and women to handle their affairs. We should vote for those who will have the same smile and handshake that they had during their campaign, and who will give the public the same service they would if they were running their own business.

Those seeking office, and those who will finally be selected to fill same, should remember that there are thousands of our young men in camps working long hours and hard, for the large sum of $21.00 per month, who would be willing, and a great many of them very capable, if they were in a position to do so, to accept these offices and give to the public the best that is in them.

THE JUNIOR READING CIRCLE OPENING EVENT

Club activities of the Junior Reading Circle will open Tuesday evening at 6:45 o'clock when members will gather at a downtown tea room for dinner.

Those in charge of arrangements are Fern Cloak, Jane Kinnenberg, Mary Woodrow and Mrs. Charles Burton.

EAST SIDE GARDEN CLUB PLANS MEETING

An interesting meeting for the East Side Garden Club members is planned for Wednesday afternoon, when they gather at the home of Mrs. W. D. Kelly of 409 Norwood avenue for a luncheon at noon.

Immediately following, they will motor to Struthers, Ohio, for a pilgrimage. A display of shrubs of a wide variety, will be the highlight, the tour to begin at 2 o'clock.

Men's Bible Class

Members of the Keystone Men's Bible class, of the First Christian church, with their teacher, Frank Hay, held a corn roast recently at the country home of William Weigle, a class member.

Wives and families were entertained as special guests and Dr. G. S. Bennett was also present.

Committee for the evening was Joseph Lindsay, Claude Patton, and Louis Fondrick.

Eagles Auxiliary

Ladies Auxiliary to the Eagles, will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, in the Eagles hall on Jefferson street, for an important session.

MRS. ROBERT HOOSE IS HOSTESS TO CLUB

On Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Robert Hoose, of East Washington street, entertained her bridge club for a 1:30 o'clock luncheon at the Weingartner cottage on the Slippery Rock Creek.

Following, the guests played bridge with prizes going to Mrs. Donald Clark, of Youngstown, and Mrs. Robert Gordon, of Moody avenue.

Mrs. E. Eugene Wray, a member of the club whose marriage was recently announced, was honored with a handkerchief shower.

Mrs. Joseph Pearson of Centennial street, was a special guest for this occasion.

MARY-MARTHA CIRCLE OPEN FALL MEETINGS

Initial fall session of the Mary and Martha Circle of the First United Presbyterian church will be held Tuesday evening in the church parlors.

Activities will begin at 7:30 o'clock, and a special feature of the evening will be a report, "Echoes of the New Wilmington Conference," by Ruth Fehl and Ruth Morrow.

Bluebird Court, of W. B. A. No. 89, met at the home of Mary Lou Thompson, Saturday afternoon, for their regular session.

After a business meeting, games were played, and prizes awarded to Angela Audino, Marilyn Morrissey, Mary Etta Prescario, and Betty Puno.

Next meeting of the court will be held at Cascade Park, September 20.

Marsing Club, Mrs. Morley Sweet Jr. will be hostess Wednesday evening to members of the Marsing club in her home on Elizabeth street.

BESSEMER WOMAN'S CLUB PLANS "FAIR"

A unique feature is planned by the Bessemer Woman's club for their opening event of the fall season, which will be a "Hobby Fair and Flower Show" to take place on September 19 in the Bessemer high school building. Mrs. Wilbur Miller is general chairman in charge, with the doors opening promptly at 7 o'clock.

Those aiding Mrs. Miller are Mrs. Verlin Stearns, Miss Frances Fullerton, Mrs. Bert Goughlee, Mrs. W. B. McCurley, Mrs. R. R. Murtland, Mrs. Charles Weitz and Mrs. P. A. Kanengeiser.

An interest display is promised and the women have been working diligently to make the exhibits outstanding in every way. A social period will also be of additional interest, with Mrs. A. A. Shoup and her committee in charge.

VICTORY BIBLE CLASS PLANS INGATHERING

A large attendance was noted at the meeting of the Victory Bible class, held in the home of Mrs. William Mitchell, 610 Spruce street, Friday evening, when plans were outlined for the ingathering of fruit for the Epileptic Home at Rochester, Pa., this to be launched the latter part of the month.

President Mrs. G. R. Weber presided over a routine period, and an interesting devotional hour was conducted by Mrs. William Gustafson. The program was later presented by Miss Mary Riffer, who had charge, and was in the form of a "Bible quiz."

A social time ensued, with Mrs. Mitchell and her co-hostesses, Miss Florence Mitchell and Mrs. William Kleckner, serving a dainty repast.

Mrs. Carrie Wilkins, house guest of Mrs. John Baer of Leasur avenue, and Miss Hilma Pirklia of this city, were special visitors of the evening.

The next regular meeting of the class is slated for Friday, October 3, with Mrs. Elizabeth Holzhauser of Butler avenue.

PLAN TO ENTERTAIN FORMER RESIDENTS

A series of parties has been planned in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Percy P. MacNab, of Los Angeles, Calif., who have arrived in New Castle for a visit. The MacNabs are the houseguests of Miss Jessie Wilson of the Hamilton Apts.

Because it has been two years since Mr. MacNab has been back to New Castle for a visit and sixteen years since Mrs. MacNab, who will be remembered as the former Miss Alice Love, has been back to her hometown, their many friends will be glad to know that they plan a month's stay.

Already plans are being made for entertainments in the MacNabs' honor. One of the first of these will be a dinner party on Wednesday evening at the New Castle Field Club.

Still, Mr. Roosevelt's term was lengthened despite the original agreement, and he didn't feel wronged.

MISS JEAN CHAPMAN WEDS CLEVELANDER

Miss Jean Evelyn Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Chapman, of West Grant street, became the bride of John Rengle, of Cleveland, O., at an informal ceremony Saturday afternoon, Sept. 6, in Highland United Presbyterian church.

The exchange of vows was heard at 3:30 o'clock, with Dr. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of the church, officiating, in the presence of friends and relatives of the young couple. A congratulatory period followed.

For her wedding the bride chose a brown street-length dress with dark accessories, and a corsage of pink roses. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Patricia Chapman, who wore a cream wool dress with brown accessories, and a corsage of pink roses.

William Richards served as best man. After a reception at the home of the bride's parents the young couple left on a brief trip to Niagara Falls and Canada.

The bride is a graduate of New Castle senior high school and an employee of the Shenango Pottery. The groom is a foreman for the Allied Construction company.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. James Fox, and children, Jean and Jack, of Cleveland, O.

LAITA-CUGINI NEWS REVEALED

How to Get Dazzling White Washes

WITHOUT SOAKING!
WITHOUT RUBBING!
WITHOUT BLEACHING!

YOU SAVE CLOTHES AND HANDS TOO, THE OXYDOL WAY!

YOU SAVE SO MUCH TIME AND MONEY!

Change to today's marvelous OXYDOL and wash this much easier, much gentler way!

SEEMS like here's the nearest approach yet to an effortless wash-day for you. Yet clothes come so gloriously clean and bright... and you spare your hands and clothes both.

Today's OXYDOL is grand. It has a new added ingredient most soaps don't have. A wonder-rich ingredient. And Oxydol dissolves dirt—draws it out gently, safely, while the washer runs.

So except for some unusual piece, don't bother with preliminary soaking. Just tumble clothes into the washer—and take them out snowy-bright, ready to rinse.

Another blessing, hands stay wonderfully smooth, because there's no hard rubbing on worn-in dirt. For those extra grimy spots, just wet... work in a little extra OXYDOL, before tossing into the washer. Then what a pleasure to see how spic and span even grimy spots come without rubbing.

NO BLEACHING... Clothes Sparkle Safely!

Now your white fairly gleams... and, what's more, retains its new white look amazingly, wash after wash. You see, Oxydol's new added ingredient acts as a gentle way to help prevent that dingy gray look from settling in threads. Thus, without bleaching, things keep amazingly white—washable colors glisten.

You may want to bleach for stains or unusual pieces, but you'll thrill to Oxydol's whiteness without bleaching. Procter & Gamble.

RAINBOW DANCE WELL ATTENDED

Another successful Rainbow dance resulted Saturday when 245 couples of young people from New Castle and surrounding communities gathered at Rainbow Terrace for the annual fall frolic of the order.

Dancing was enjoyed from 8:30 until 11:30 with the members of the advisory board of the assembly serving as chaperones. Miss Leslie Wilson, worthy advisor, has as her committee Misses Manneetta McCracken, Betty Jane Cope, Idagene Mitchell and Marjorie Allen with Mrs. John Templeton of the advisory board assisting her in the arrangements for this successful occasion.

It was announced that the next dance of the order will be the annual Christmas dance, which will take place in the crystal ballroom of The Cathedral, December 26.

Another event of interest to Rainbow Girls and their friends will be the installation of new officers by the assembly on Wednesday evening, September 17, in the east lodge room of The Cathedral, when Miss Manneetta McCracken will be installed as worthy advisor, along with her corps of officers.

ST. VITUS CHURCH SCENE OF WEDDING

Before a beautifully embanked altar of ferns and flowers in St. Vitus church on Saturday morning, Miss Teresa Pagani, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Pagani of Division street, became the bride of Roger Flamino, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Flamino, New street.

In the presence of many friends, vows were exchanged at 9:30 o'clock with the Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita officiating, and using the single ring ceremony. She was given in marriage by her father.

For her wedding the bride chose a white metallic satin gown, madetrain with square neckline and leg-o-mutton sleeves. Her veil was caught with a crown of pearls and she carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and gardenias. As her jewelry she wore a necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Louise Capitino, as maid of honor, wore a peach gown and carried a colonial bouquet of Johanna Hill roses. Bridesmaids, Christine and Margaret Flamino, Agnes and Rose Demofante, Jeanette Parrilla, Marie Candello, Matilda Malizio and Lillian Palmer, all wore aqua gowns and carried colonial bouquets of Johanna Hill roses.

James Bordonaro served as best man, and ushering were Vincent Scocchera, Leonard Battistoni, Louis Malizio, Victor Stefano, Ezio Pagani, Chester Flamino and Nick Lavaggi.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served in the King Humbert hall where in the evening a reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Flamino departed on a trip to Detroit and Canada. Upon their return after September 15 they will be "at home" in their newly furnished apartment, 805 Highland avenue. Mr. Flamino is affiliated with the Bordonaro wholesale company.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. P. Capitino, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Clotti, Mr. and Mrs. Marino Domizio of Ashtabula, Mr. and Mrs. John Natale of Hubbard, O. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Natale and Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett of Youngstown.

SOCIETY PRESIDENT HONORED BY GROUP

Miss Dorothy Lewis, president of the Young People's society of the Primitive Methodist church was honored at an informal gathering held by a group of people Saturday evening at the Ashton residence, 720 Cunningham avenue.

Miss Lewis, a popular member of the society, is leaving today for the Chicago Evangelist Institute where she has enrolled in a four-year course.

The event was in the form of a wicker roast and the tasty menu was served outdoors. Louis Blair and Olga Nanas were on the committee in charge of arrangements.

Music and other informal pastimes were enjoyed. The honoree was the recipient of many lovely gifts, the presentation being in the nature of a miscellaneous surprise shower.

T. L. T. Postponed

Members of the T. L. T. club will meet at the home of Mrs. E. A. Horchler, on Matilda avenue, Tuesday, September 23, the meeting having been postponed for two weeks.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

LEARNING BY ROTE

Frequently, I have pointed out to more rote-learning of certain useful items. Among such are choice items of literature, even before they are thoroughly understood; also short specific facts and symbols which often will be needed, such as the basic addition and subtraction facts of certain symbols and brief formulae of the sciences.

It is about condensing and getting the juice out of a paragraph and chapter that I wish to write today. The student in high school and college is tempted to memorize more words. In such subjects as history, economics, or philosophy, a student often learns word for word the paragraph topics, even the summaries at the end of a chapter. Unfortunately, it is possible to pass an examination by doing this. But it is a futile thing to do.

Get Meaning First
In order to learn things thoroughly the pupil should read the entire chapter through and try to get the general meaning of it. Then he should go back and summarize each paragraph in his own language. It may be well to write down each summarizing sentence, one after another, and then go back to see their relationships. The last profitable step is to memorize these sentences or the ideas they express, in still other language of one's own.

Except to get the general sense of a chapter in a text book, there is no use in trying to read it rapidly. Rather, as you try to turn each paragraph into your own language you should proceed slowly, carefully, thoroughly.

If the book is fiction to be reported on either orally or in writing it can be read much faster than straight factual material. Even then, it might be well to go back after this reading in order to put the gist of each paragraph, or a group of them, into your own words.

A selected list of books from which to read to the baby and young child may be had by writing me at 235 East 45th St., N. Y. City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp. In like manner, any one may receive a selected list of books on how to study effectively, and my "Tips to Students."

Solving Parent Problem
Q. My fourteen-year-old daughter would like to read a number of books this summer. Do you have a selected list of books suited to her age?

A. I have prepared such a list which you may have without cost by writing me at 235 E. 45th St., N. Y. City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp. Also I have a similar graded list for the elementary school age child, to be had in like fashion.

The World and the Mud Puddles

WOMEN AT WORK.

World War I plummeted hundreds of thousands of women into business and industry as breadwinners because of the critical shortage of men workers.

Today the defense program is beginning to start another exodus of women from homes and non-defense employment to new posts in the most gigantic armament drive the world has ever seen.

As yet, the march of American women into defense industries has by no means been as great as in England or Canada. But events in our Dominion neighbor may well foreshadow the future in the United States. Persons who regard with shocked surprise the thought of women building precision parts of guns, making ammunition or assembling planes, had better not look at the Canadian war effort in which grimly earnest women in oil-streaked jeans are standing shoulder to shoulder with male co-workers.

One-fifth of the labor force of one Toronto plant manufacturing machine guns and aircraft weapons is made up of women. These eight hundred "rookies in skirts" in nine-hour-a-day shifts, are all doing jobs formerly held by men. They are running lathes, doing acetylene welding and precision grinding, operating drill presses, spline millers and polishing machines. Others are measuring gun parts, where the difference of a thousandth of an inch means the difference between a weapon that works properly and one that won't. Plant executives pronounce themselves as well pleased with the skill of these newcomers in handling the intricate machines and performing the three thousand operations which are required for the making of the Bren gun.

In the United States, due to the shortage of available men, women have begun to make their appearance on automotive assembly lines, as service station attendants and operators of light lathes. Whether the men like it or not, America's women appear ready, willing and able to take over wherever they are needed.

With victories attained at a minimum expenditure of human life and material reserves, Germany has grown in strength, drawn from lands whose peoples have been reduced to poverty, starvation and slavery.

But now, after two years, Germany is feeling the shock of war, its mercilessness, its agony. For the first time since its hordes overwhelmed Poland and established a rule of bestial cruelty, the Nazis are being compelled to pay the price of conquest.

The Germans are at last being compelled to throw millions of young men into the Red maw of war and the people at home are learning through lengthening casualty lists, hospital trains and disgorging of maimed and shattered bodies in the cities and towns, and the summoning of more men to fill the gaps in the ranks of cannon fodder, just what Hitler means to them in terms of human misery.

Meanwhile the Germans are having a taste of Coventry, of London, of Rotterdam and Warsaw. Berlin, together with other German cities, is being rocked and shattered by bombs from the air, dropped not only by English but also by Russian flyers.

In so far as Germany is concerned, this is now a radically changed war. The German people, who have enthused while one small nation after another has been crushed and destroyed, must now be prepared to endure some of the agony that they have inflicted upon others. For the future safety of civilization, the destruction in Germany cannot be too comprehensive.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 6:22. Sun rises tomorrow 5:35.

Very few men wear silk socks. They could not be seen anyhow. And who would care?

They say a local woman is failing in health because she does not get enough sleep. She has to sit up late every night to let grandma in.

Very often people get a singing telegram asking for money. Usually an old song.

A young man acted so silly when he was in love his folks told him he had a bad case of "puppy love." Since being married a couple of years he understands what his folks meant—the beginning of a dog's life.

OFF HIS SUBJECT
The minister was making his rounds of the congregation and was surprised when one member—a hard-boiled business man—remarked that he finally had got religion.

"Are you sure you will lay aside sharp practice hereafter?" asked the minister.

"Positive" was the answer. "I've already taken steps in that direction."

"And are you going to pay all those delinquent taxes?" the parson went on.

"Now wait a minute, reverend," protested the business man. "You're not talking religion now; you're talking business."

Madam: "Have you any references?"

Cook: "Oh, yes, ma'am, many, but I don't know them. They hardly do me justice."

Talk usually makes a war, but it never gets the people out of one.

JOHNNY, who remained for church after Sunday school, was asked to pay close attention, to tell his mother what the preacher's text was when he got home. Johnny reported the text as, "Many are cold but few are frozen." What the preacher had said was, "Many are called but few are chosen."

When some birds are told to act like gentlemen they don't know how to act.

There is nothing that will keep the price of some things down more than that there is no demand for them.

What a life! It takes forty years of fine character to build a good face. Then you lose your teeth, and phooey!

Palmetto—Why do you call my girl a silent belle?

Bjorn—I kissed her the other night and she never told.

No doubt the scarcity of crab meat is causing a lot of people to crab.

So far no one has found a use for campaign tickets. The pencils and matches seem to come good.

DuZul—What's the difference between a modern and an old-fashioned kiss?

Tomorrow is the day you vote. Use your head for another purpose than keeping your ears apart.

You will have to depend a lot on the men who are nominated tomorrow, so act accordingly.

The chap who says he votes according to his conscience, probably thinks he's got one, but he ain't fooling anybody else.

NOT A SERIOUS BREAK
We understand that Dottie Dazzle, sister of our friend Doris, broke her engagement recently.

Doris was telling us about it. "She was very indignant," Doris related. "She heard that Bill had been out with another girl. When she got this news, she tore off Bill's engagement ring and literally flung it."

"Where did she fling it?" we asked.

"Right on her other hand," Doris replied.

What's What At A Glance

Hitler Appear To Be Trying Appeasement
Leaves Siberia To Soviets In Discussion
Mussolini And Hitler Agree At Meeting

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist
WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Herr Hitler's and Signor Mussolini's decision, at their recent meeting near Adolf's Muscovite front, to occupy all of European Russia, but to leave Siberia to the Soviets, probably was arrived at, partly at least, to reassure Japan, so the Washington state department inclines to think. News of the two dictators' agreement arrived here from Rome and was not official. It was published, however, in Victorio Gayda's newspaper, the Giornale d'Italia, and Victorio virtually is Benito's mouthpiece.

It's recognized that Der Fuehrer undoubtedly did all the actual deciding but the surmise is that he chose to let the press, perhaps through Il Duce's press, perhaps to inflate his extremely junior partner's ego a trifle, since it must have suffered considerably of late from the obviousness of the smallness of its proprietor, as a potato, in comparison with Adolf—and the time hasn't yet come for the latter to bake, boil or fry the lesser vegetable yet.

Besides the Japanese consideration, it's guessed that Adolf really believes, at present, that pushing his Russian campaign east of the Urals would involve operations at too long range.

The Japs, though, have given evidence of needing some appeasing, to keep 'em in line with the Axis hookup.

There's nothing definite, but hints have come from Tokio of whispering among influential statesmen and militarists there to the effect that the Nazis would be exceedingly dangerous to Nippon in control of the Siberian east coast and down to the border of the Mikado's mainland territory.

They Liked Russia Once
The Japs don't like the Russians, either, but they're not so much afraid of them. They liked 'em once. It wasn't by a wide margin, but they got the decision. They're not so sure they could do even that of the Nazis—provided the latter completely conquered Russia, European and Arctic alike, and were given time to dig in. The conquerors wouldn't be fixed to attack 'em immediately, of course, but those Tokio prophets are looking ahead.

Does all this have anything to do with Tokio's conspicuous military supplies to Moscow?

They object to having 'em shipped there, naturally. They're tied up to the Axis and such supplies are anti-run they're apprehensive of Russia. If Germany could waltz the far out of the Muscovites and leave 'em utterly crippled, without gobbling their territory too far to the eastward, Tokio'd be suited down to the ground. But, as a next-door neighbor, they prefer the Soviets to the Nazis—not that they like the Soviets any better than the Nazis, but they're less scared of the former, not right now but ultimately.

The ideal arrangement for Japan would be to have everybody licked except Nippon. Among the licked, to make it perfect, from the Japs' standpoint, the United States should

Home from the summer cottage!
Home from the wasps and flies!

Home from the paper napkins and the religious children's cries!
Back to the morning paper! Back to a roof o'er head!

Proof against every rainfall! Back to a city bed!

Home from the brown moth millers!
Home from the frogs and snakes!

Home from the pink canned salmon and back to the city sausage!
Back to the morning postman! Back to the easy chair!

And a car wash while you're working so long as you park it there!

Home from the stairway squeak!
Home from the shabby floors!
Home from the rattling windows!
Home from the banging doors!
Back to the phone bell ringing!
Back to the lights that burn!
Home from the fields of daisies!
Back to the potted fern!

Gladly we fled the city, gladly we sought the lake
And we joyed in the summer cottage where always the windows shake!

But again are the school bells ringing and happily now we go
Back once again to the city and it's right that it should be so!

Just A Reshuffle

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. THE disposition among those who grasp the degree to which the defense job has been botched is to express hope that the third reorganization of the defense machinery, recently put into effect by the President, will measurably lessen the confusion and increase the efficiency. Everybody must hope that, because upon it the national safety so clearly depends.

YET, the truth is that those in best position to judge have slight expectation that this hope will be more than partially realized. After two weeks, during which the new super-board has been functioning, this feeling has grown. The notion that at last Mr. Roosevelt has moved to rectify the basic defects in the organization, finally placing it upon a sound and solid foundation, is no longer entertained. In his restrained way, the extremely patient Mr. B. M. Baruch has made it clear that the latest reorganization is a phony business without much substance. Discarding his habit of silence, he spoke his mind. Two things give his words weight: first, his unparalleled experience; second, the fact that he has neither personal nor political axe to grind. He is that rare thing in public affairs—a detached and disinterested man.

ACTUALLY what the President has done is merely to reshuffle the deck of defense cards—not change the deck. The same cards, including the jokers, are close to the top. And some of them are marked. The new organization represents a victory for Mr. Harry Hopkins and Mr. Leon Henderson, which means that the left wing New Dealers are in control of the machinery and that all idea of making the national defense an effort from which politics is barred and prejudice ruled out has been abandoned. It never was anything but a pretense; it is hardly that now.

Notable Homecoming At King's Chapel On Sunday

An all-day program Sunday marked the eighth annual homecoming celebration for Kings Chapel church, the oldest Methodist church in Lawrence county, and celebrated its 137th anniversary.

Several hundred persons took part in the morning, afternoon and evening services planned for the occasion. Music for accompaniment during the day was furnished by Mrs. Albert Chapin and Mrs. T. G. Wallace.

The morning service was featured by a fine sermon by Rev. J. C. Cousins, pastor of the church, who used the topic, "The Power of Principles Directed Toward the Necessity of Conviction in Our Lives." Mr. Cousins brought forth the thought in his sermon that, "nations and peoples as well, are defeated or triumphed by virtue of their character."

A choir of junior members furnished music for the morning program. Responsive reading at the morning service was led by Albert Chapin.

The midday hours were spent about tables in the church basement, where the contents of overflowing picnic baskets were spread out and devoured.

Afternoon program began at 2:30 o'clock, with a larger crowd than had taken part in the morning service. Mr. Cousins introduced George Heckathorne, genial extemporaneous speaker, who in turn called on former members for remarks.

Following persons spoke briefly: Miss Ella Porter, who has resided in Colorado Springs, Colo., for a number of years. She was a faithful member, organizer and Sunday school teacher for a long period of her life. George Chapin, Frank Simonson, John Matthews and T. G. Wallace also spoke.

Special music during the afternoon was presented by Mrs. W. H. Luikhart who sang, "Rock of Ages."

The scripture lesson was read by Ralph McFarland, and a short prayer was given by Carl Motu. Harry Green, who requested all members who had attended the old church building about 45 years ago to stand, found that more than 25 in the crowd could respond. Frank Chapin and Mrs. McQuiston spoke also and much praise was given the cemetery caretaker.

Mrs. Oscar Sheaffer requested the 10 members of Miss Ella Porter's former class to rise.

Mr. Cousins introduced Rev. W. V. McLean, pastor of the First Methodist church, this city, who was the main speaker for the afternoon session. He spoke of Jerusalem as an unwarmed city, a spiritual ideal more than the mechanical. We must build to reach out to the ends of the earth. A spiritual ideal can not be measured by human yardsticks—we are not to build walls to keep folks out, but should keep Jerusalem as a symbol of free access unto Christ.

Evening service opened with music, followed by a few words of appreciation to committees by Mr. Cousins, after which John Rea of New Castle presented reminiscences of the dedication of the church in 1809.

Evening service was marked by special music by Dean Wallace who sang "Jesus Whispers Peace," and a violin solo by Idagene Mitchell, accompanied on the piano by Marjorie Allen. E. S. Lorenz was called upon for a short prayer.

Mr. Cousins introduced Rev. D. J. Blasdel, pastor of the Mahoning Methodist church of Mahoningtown, who was the evening speaker. The theme of this address was that "the infinite can not be defeated," and Mr. Blasdel showed by various illustrations how God works to victory through seeming defeat.

The homecoming event came to a close with a short benediction by Rev. Blasdel. Those in attendance were enthusiastic that the success of the day was the result of splendid cooperation on the part of the various committees, who followed:

Four Injured In Auto Collision

Car Stopped On Highway Is Struck By Machine From Behind On Route 422

When Leo Justinen, of 1618 Thorpe street, stopped on route 422, about six miles west of the city, to allow a car ahead to turn into a driveway, his machine was struck from the rear by a car driven by George W. Ames, of R. F. D. No. 2, Knox avenue, who did not see the car ahead until too late to avoid a collision. The accident occurred about 12:30 Sunday morning.

Four persons were injured, Ames sustaining a fracture of the right arm and severe lacerations of the face. He was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital by John J. Brice of 101 Milton street.

Fred Hughes, of 408 Martin street, a passenger in the Ames car suffered lacerations of the eyebrow. Justinen received a laceration of the forehead, and Vilko Svirjan, of 510 John street, a passenger in Justinen's car, had a laceration of the back of the head. They were able to leave the Jameson Memorial hospital after receiving treatment.

Auto driven, State Motor police reported, by Henry Gilliland, Sharon, going toward Sharon, went off of road toward a gutter and plunged into a yard along the road, several miles outside of New Castle on the New Wilmington highway at seven a. m. Sunday.

Paul E. Bell, Akron, drove an auto and a tire went flat. He drove his car out onto the berm along Route 422, two miles east of New Bedford at 12:30 a. m. yesterday. Parking lights were illuminated. However, the car of Stanley Wymer, Volant, R. 2, struck Bell's car with considerable damage resulting, police report.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8 — Amidst colorful ceremony marking official reopening of the vast Cramp's Shipyard Building company, the keel of the new cruiser U. S. S. Wilkes-Barre was eased into place Saturday to become the second of six 10,000-ton vessels actually under construction at the yard.

Best wishes for the program underway at the Kensington plant came from Rear Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations and a native of the city of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Gov. Arthur H. James of Pennsylvania.

Stark recalled that his first assignment at sea as a midshipman was on a Cramp-built ship and his first command was the U. S. S. Patterson, also a product of the Philadelphia shipyard.

Governor James declared in an address that the wheels of rearmament are being held up by failure of Pennsylvania's industries.

"I take this occasion once again," said the governor, "to call public attention to this golden opportunity to put defense operations into far higher gear than yet in sight, and do the job with a minimum of social disturbance and mass repopulation."

A Wilkes-Barre division led by Mayor Charles N. Loveland of that city and the 50-piece West Pittston band featured a parade of 10,000 persons and 40 musical aggregations following the keel-laying. Idle 14 years, the Cramp Yards started work some time ago on the cruiser Miami and also launched two naval barges.

The Great Game Of Politics

FOUR of the seven members of the new board, constituting a majority are complete New Dealers of the extreme type — Wallace, Hopkins, Hillman and Henderson. Of the take-over members—the Messrs. Knox, Stimson and Knudsen—the first two are immersed in the duties of the departments which they head, and the third is a large, amiable avoid trouble. The net of this is the sort of New Deal domination of the defense effort that the left wing radicals have been striving to achieve for more than a year.

THE latest shuffle puts them firmly in the saddle. Definitely, industry has been given a subordinate role. The New Dealers are to formulate policy and supply the managerial genius. The dollar-a-year industrialists are to carry out orders or get out. Some of them would like to do the latter, but feel that to question the competency of the new arrangement would expose them to a White House ultimatum as unpatriotically unwilling to serve unless they could serve on their own terms. None wants to take that kind of risk. In brief, they can be kicked out, but they can't get out.

IT is interesting to note the new way in which the reshuffle has eliminated the businessmen from all policy-shaping positions. Mr. Knudsen finds himself confined to the production end of the now subordinated O.P.M. Mr. Stettinius no longer has anything to do with priorities, but has become a sort of aide to Mr. Hopkins in the lend-lease operations. Mr. Batt is in a new and limited area. The one businessman of the lot who appears to have gained rather than lost ground is Mr. Donald Nelson, named as executive secretary of the super-board.

THE explanation of Mr. Nelson is a very simple one. It is somewhat naively given by New Deal journalists, who assert that he is "the one businessman" who has "played ball" with Mr. Henderson. At the moment, Mr. Nelson is the New Deal's favorite businessman because, more than any other, he has seemed sympathetic personally and politically with the New Dealers and their ideas. Those who have served him closely since he came to Washington say that while he is certainly an intelligent man he has been anxious to stand well with Mr. Hopkins, Mr. Henderson and a few others that he has not used his intelligence effectively. The reason he has been given his present position is because he does stand well with them. That isn't disputed by the New Dealers—it is proclaimed.

WHILE some classify Mr. Nelson with Mr. Averill Harriman and Mr. Thomas J. Watson, widely regarded as administration businessmen, it is not denied that he has ability not that he knows what ought to be done. What is doubted is that he can or will do it. For one thing, he has not been given the power. It is absurd to compare his position with that of Mr. Baruch on the old war industries board. Mr. Roosevelt has delegated no authority to him such as Mr. Wilson delegated to Mr. Baruch. Mr. Roosevelt has not made Mr. Nelson the boss of the job and no one thinks so. Consequently, except for putting the industrialists to the rear, no basic change has been made.

IT is possible that later Mr. Nelson may be given the authority he lacks and may use it effectively. That is the hope. Certainly, he has the knowledge and the capacity perhaps he will make his own opportunity, but what he chiefly needs is to be backed up. At any rate, it is no exaggeration to say that the bungling of the defense management already has cost 25 per cent in money and 33 per cent in time. If continued, it may cost the war. Under the new arrangement some advance is assured, but only the incurably optimistic believe that competency has replaced incompetency or that waste and friction are ended. One reason for disbelief is because, however different the setup, the personnel has not been changed. There will be authority in place of course, but the production of course increased production is inevitable as a result of the immense outpouring of money and placing of contracts. But the cost in time and the risks are not pleasant to contemplate.

CHILD BREAKS ARM

While playing with her dog in the front yard of her home, Sunday evening about 7 o'clock, little Marilyn Elaine Lutton, aged eight years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Lutton, of 810 West North street, slipped in the grass, sustaining a fracture of the left arm. She was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where splints were applied.

Meanwhile he's on a hot spot. He wants to have war supplies indiscriminately furnished, in order to enable their recipients to kill off one another, but he doesn't want any of 'em to win out 100 per cent and then hop on him.

Incidentally the Japs are sore at the United States for sending supplies to Russia that Uncle Sam won't let THEM have. It makes 'em feel discriminated against, which they regard as an insult, and Orientals are very sensitive to being insulted. They "lose face" by it.

Militarists Unpredictable

And yet they don't think the moment's ripe for 'em to do anything violent. That is, their statesmen don't. There's no telling anything about their militarists. Jap militarists approve of suicide as a last resort in emergencies. There's no telling what they'll do. Their civil government, though, is more sensible. It's trying to be as sociable with Washington as possible. The undependability of that is that the militarists do whatever they have a crazy hunch to do, regardless of the rest of the Tokyo government.

But the question is: When Adolf and Benito agreed not to butt into Asiatic Russia, were they intending to notify the Japs not to be afraid of 'em? And will the Japs believe 'em?

Such queries can be put but they can't be answered. It's a case of Oriental inscrutability, to Occidentals.

My Sincere Thanks

It is customary just before a primary election to rush into print with claims, charges, or reasons why candidates should be nominated. This advertisement is for neither of these reasons. It is merely to acknowledge publicly the debt of gratitude I owe those loyal friends who have been carrying the fight for me.

As a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff I have seen many people but without the aid of my friends I should have accomplished little. To you the voters who have been universally courteous to my solicitation, and to you my friends who have been out on the firing line for me I extend my sincere thanks.

FAMILY PARTY FOR ENGAGED COUPLE

In the home of Mrs. James A. Bell, 412 Leasure avenue, a family party was held honoring Miss Fannie Collins and Raymond Colbert, the latter a brother of the hostess, couples engagement having recently been announced.

The event was in the form of a birthday celebration honoring Mr. Colbert, serving a dual purpose. Many lovely gifts were received by the couple, and Mr. Colbert was presented with additional personal remembrances, for his birthday.

Informal pastimes filled in the hours, with William Ayers and Mrs. John Bevan being prize winners. Lunch was a later pleasure, the hostess being aided with the prettily appointed menu by Mrs. Andy Brown and Mrs. John Colbert.

From out of town, they had Charles Colbert of Chester, West Va., and Sergeant James A. Bell, stationed at Virginia.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY AT W. L. REED HOME

In the "Family Album" of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Reed, 922 Morton street, the pages were turned back Saturday, Sept. 6, as the couple observed their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary surrounded by their 11 children, the occasion being appropriately celebrated with "open house."

A reception from 2 until 4 in the afternoon was continued in the evening, guests being received from 7 until 10 o'clock, and the "Guest Book" was filled with names numbering upwards of a hundred, who called to extend congratulations on this happy occasion.

Many bouquets received as gifts decorated the rooms throughout, in addition to many lovely remembrances, cards and telegrams from those unable to be present. Both Mr. and Mrs. Reed, members of the Third United Presbyterian church, have a wide circle of friends here, Castle, where they have spent their lives.

A buffet lunch was served from a table attractively decorated in keeping with the silver anniversary motif by Mrs. Arthur Llewellyn, Mrs. James Pollock and Mrs. William Schuffert.

Attending from out of town, were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kelley of Youngstown, O.; Bud Diamond, Kenneth Stroebel of Butler, Pa.; Mrs. Reed of New Brighton and Mr. and Mrs. James Pollock of Plaingrove.

ST. LUCY'S CHURCH SCENE OF WEDDING

In the presence of many friends and relatives, Miss Florence Lombardo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lombardo of 208 Lafayette street, became the bride of William Majocha, son of Mr. Rykka of North Liberty street, on Saturday morning in St. Lucy's church.

Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito officiated at the ceremony, using the single ring service. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

For her wedding she was attired in a gown of ivory satin, made with long train. Her veil was caught with a beaded crown and she carried orchids. As her only jewelry she wore a locket, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Christina Perrotta, as maid of honor, wore rose taffeta with maroon accessories, and carried an arm bouquet of asters.

General Picarella served the bridegroom as best man.

Supplementing the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served in a tea room on the New Wilmington road, and in the evening a reception was held in St. Margaret's hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Majocha departed later on a southern wedding trip and upon their return will reside on Monticomey avenue. Mrs. Majocha is employed at the Crescent theatre as cashier, and Mr. Majocha is affiliated with the Bruce Electric company.

UNITY CHAPTER HAS WIENER ROAST OUTING

Members of the Unity Chapter No. 1, enjoyed their annual wiener roast Sunday evening, at an outing spot on the New Wilmington road.

Promptly at 6:30 o'clock, activities were underway, and the tasty meal was prepared on a huge bonfire. A marshmallow roast was another feature of the evening.

Following the meal, dancing was the chief diversion. Those on the committee in charge of the outing were: Caroline Cubellis, Frances and Charlotte Chipprano, Victoria Ginochi, Louise Peluso and Verbinia Daltoria.

On September 17, the group will have their meeting, and a formal dinner-dance will be planned.

BROWNE-EGBERT WEDDING SATURDAY

On Saturday, Sept. 6, at 12:30 o'clock, Winifred Egbert, daughter of Mrs. Harry Egbert, and the late Harry Egbert, was married to Robert Lewis Browne, son of Robert Audley Browne and the late Kathryn Fisher Browne, in the Christ Episcopal church of Oil City, Pa., with the Reverend Mr. Small, rector of the church, officiating.

A reception at the home of the bride's mother, on West Third street, was held following the ceremony.

Guests from New Castle were the Misses Mary and Grace Browne, Miss Rebekah Browne, J. Johnston Fisher and son, Joseph Fisher.

Woman Saved From Drowning

Steps Into Deep Hole While Wading In Shenango River Near Nashua Bridge

Combined efforts of her husband, a brother, Louis Fulkerson, of rear Court street, and the New Castle fire department rescue squad, saved Mrs. Dominick DeFonso, 210 South Jefferson street, from drowning, Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock in a swimming hole near Nashua bridge, in Pulaski township.

According to Mr. DeFonso, his wife was wading and suddenly dropped into a deep hole. Mr. DeFonso, who was fishing nearby along with Mr. Fulkerson, was attracted to the scene by screams.

Mr. Fulkerson plunged into the water and succeeded in removing Mrs. DeFonso out of the water.

Artificial respiration efforts, employed by Mr. DeFonso, proved successful in partially reviving the woman.

The rescue squad, upon arriving, used the inhalator for about 15 minutes. The woman was then removed to New Castle hospital by the ambulance squad.

C. R. Rohrer, C. C. Shaffer, Frank Robinson, and William Bowen, members of the squad, and Peter Herman, answered the call.

Ruth Fulkerson, rear Court street, who was a member of the party, tried unsuccessfully to rescue Mrs. DeFonso.

Hospital attendants this afternoon described the woman's condition as "good." She will probably return home sometime today.

Kills His Wife, Attempts Suicide

Llewellyn Craig Battles For His Life In Hospital At Greensburg

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 8.—Llewellyn Craig struggled for his life in Mount Pleasant Memorial hospital today after, police said, he shot and fatally wounded his 27-year-old wife, Mrs. Emma Schaefer Craig, mother of two, and then turned a shotgun on himself on a lonely road between Armhurst and Brinkerton.

Hospital attaches said this morning that Craig's condition "remains serious."

Authorities who attempted to reconstruct the apparent murder and attempted suicide said that Craig asked his wife, from whom he is separated, to drive him to his home as he wasn't feeling well. When they got a small distance from Westmoreland, the car and apparently an stopped the car and apparently ran down the road, they said. She was found with a shotgun wound through the back. Near the car was Craig, with what police declared to be a self-inflicted wound.

Officers said Craig will face murder charges if he recovers.

Showalter Boy's Spleen Removed

Undergoes Rare Operation In Jameson Memorial Hospital After Accident

Harry R. Showalter, Jr., aged 13 years, son of Officer Harry R. Showalter, of 933 Warren avenue, underwent a rare and critical operation in the Jameson Memorial hospital Saturday afternoon after he had been injured in a collision between the bicycle he was riding and an auto driven by Pasquale Benincase, Jr., of 806 High street, during the noon hour Saturday.

Young Showalter it was discovered, suffered a ruptured spleen and an operation was undertaken to save his life.

His condition this morning was reported as good, and it is believed he will recover from his injuries.

Wayne Sines, Jr., of 935 Warren avenue, who suffered a fracture of the collarbone, was able to be taken home after receiving treatment at the hospital, and is getting along nicely.

Los Angeles Girl Is "Miss America"

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 8.—The new "Miss America," Rosemary La Planché of Los Angeles, doesn't smoke and doesn't drink, but she likes her food.

The nation's new bathing beauty queen, crowned "Miss America, 1941" at the climax of Atlantic City's annual beauty contest last night, was eating a breakfast of waffles, bacon and milk in her hotel room when interviewed today.

Miss La Planché said for five years it had been her ambition to be a movie actress and that she had figured out a couple of years ago the best way to catapult herself into filmdom was to win the Miss America crown. She was awarded second prize last year.

There will be a joint meeting for the Lebe Wohl Society of the New Castle Hospital School Of Nursing and for the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary, of the school, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the nurses' home.

The meeting was called by Martha Aker, former chairman on religious activities and Sabina Shoup, acting chairman.

SMALL RURAL SCHOOL CLOSED

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Sept. 8.—The Ralston rural school, two miles south of here, has been closed because the enrollment has fallen below the legal minimum. The teacher elected for this year, Mrs. Bernice Boozel, probably will be placed elsewhere in nearby townships, since several vacancies still exist. Pupils will be transported to Slippery Rock schools.

HOME OF FRANKLIN ATTORNEY ROBBED

(International News Service)

FRANKLIN, Pa., Sept. 8.—Jewelry and silverware valued at $5,000 were stolen from the home of Attorney and Mrs. Newton F. Omer, the couple reported early today.

The Osmers found their residence ransacked when they returned home last midnight. The jewel robbery was Franklin's second in the past six months. The theft of $10,000 in jewelry taken from the home of Miss Mary D. Hancock is as yet unsolved.

GILBERT E. LONG

Republican Candidate for DISTRICT ATTORNEY

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the voters of the county for their very courteous reception of my candidacy, and if those who have encouraged my efforts will urge their friends and neighbors to join in, I believe success will be the reward of our efforts.

If successful, I pledge myself to conduct the office with considerable saving to the tax-payers of the county, in compliance with my plan heretofore outlined in my public advertisements.

THANK YOU

GILBERT E. LONG

In Europe, dictators take from citizens the right to vote. In America, citizens voluntarily give up that right. Just how much does a qualified elector who fails to participate in elections desire and deserve the continuance of democracy? Surely a really proud-to-be-an-American citizen will vote.

The campaign is practically closed. There has been ample time and opportunity to advance arguments for and against candidates. Last-minute arguments cannot be answered. That's why they are last-minute.

Be fair to the candidates, think it over and then vote.

Annual Banquet Of Church League Event Of Saturday

Neighborhood Church Softball Teams Have Enjoyable Celebration

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 8.—Culminating a summer of fun and good sportsmanship, members of the Neighborhood Church Softball League assembled on Saturday evening at the North Sewickley Presbyterian church for their second annual banquet, which will go down in the records as one of the most pleasurable events in the league history.

About 150 members of the six teams, their friends and well-wishers, attended, and the affair began with the serving of a really bountiful and delicious chicken dinner by women of the church. The long tables were attractively decorated with low arrangements of asters and cosmos. Softball bats and gloves arranged about the room lent appropriate atmosphere to the occasion.

Rev. L. A. Lightfritz, president of the league board, and pastor of the Lilyville Church of God, again served as toastmaster, delighting the group with his clever introductions. As the initial program featured team managers were introduced, as follows: Ben Anderson, Knox; Bill Kirk, Wurttemberg; Bill Levy, Burrys; Bill Daufen, Lilyville; Norman Pack, Immanuel Reformed; and George Thornhill, North Sewickley.

Laudatory talks on the value of the league were given by Rev. J. E. Caughey, of the Wurttemberg U. P. church; Rev. C. S. Hayner, Burrys church; and Rev. R. E. Bell, Knox and North Sewickley churches, who made a plea that the teams devote their interest to the church this winter. Brief congratulatory talks were given by Will C. Kegel, Charles Cox and Mrs. Fay Cowan.

Glenn W. Johnson, principal of Shenango high school, and an old-time baseball player, was the guest speaker. His talk concerned the value of competitive sports, the necessity of willing sponsors, and the blessing of a country where freedom in sports is permitted.

Having scored a "home run" on last year's banquet program, Rev. A. E. Driggers, of the Rochester Presbyterian church, was again in attendance and pleased the audience with his witty but subtly serious talk on the need to preserve American liberties.

The North Sewickley Presbyterian team not only won the church league championship, but went on to defeat the Mahoning Methodists, winners of the New Castle church league, thereby winning the Lawrence county championship.

Players of the winning team were: Fred and Clifford, Pflug, Russell, Chester, Charles and Harold Shaffer, Raymond Richards, Arthur Lockruit, Myron Partington, George Thornhill, Charles Kregish, John Takacs, William Jackson, Carson Robbins, Bernard Ross, Robert Frazier, Ray Hardie, Harry McCloskey, Fred Herhard and Paul Lachaw. They were presented with an attractive trophy for winning the league championship, and with a lovely clock by the Pennsylvania Power company for winning the county togo. Both gifts were re-presented to the church by Manager George Thornhill.

Arrangements for the banquet were in charge of Rev. Lightfritz, Arthur Smith and Harry McCloskey, and to them goes a full measure of credit for the successful and enjoyable event.

Large Crowd To Hear Gillilan

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 8.—The Chamber of Commerce announced today that no more reservations will be accepted under any conditions for the sixth annual industrial dinner to be held at the Ellwood Country club on this Thursday evening at 6:15 P. M.

Due to the large amount of local citizens wishing to hear Strickland Gillilan, the nation's humorist, arrangements are being made whereby anyone wishing to hear the speaker may do so free of charge. Mr. Gillilan is expected to start his address at 7:45 and seating arrangements for the public will be taken care of. The ballroom of the Country club will be decorated appropriately with the defense program and one of the largest crowds to ever attend a dinner meet here in Ellwood City is expected to be on hand.

Zelenople's Oldest Church Observing 120th Anniversary

ZELENOPOLE, Pa., Sept. 8.—The oldest incorporated institution in Zelenople, St. Paul's Lutheran church, is observing its 120th anniversary.

The church's history actually dates back to 1803 when Rev. Philip Muckenhuft came here and for eight years held services in the homes of the pioneers. From 1813 to 1818, Rev. Jacob Schmitz, Pittsburgh, held Lutheran services in the old "Round Schoolhouse" that stood at Main street and Grandview avenue, half a block from the location of the present church.

On Sept. 21, 1821, Rev. Johann Schweitzerbarth organized St. Paul's church at a meeting in the great hall of "Ben Vente," mansion built by Caspar Otto Muller family. The church building was dedicated in 1827.

James Mehard of Harmony was the general contractor, while Hyacinthe Wied built the original parsonage and pulpit. The first pipe organ was built and played, some years later, by Johannes Muller.

Land for the church site was donated by Philippe Louis Passavant, after whose wife, Zelle, the town was named.

In 1913, during the pastorate of Dr. F. H. Meyer, the building was remodeled.

The present pastor is Rev. A. J. Brauss. He has served the congregation for 21 years.

Sally Ann Craig Has Party Event

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 8.—Sally Ann Craig was honor guest at a merry surprise party held on Saturday afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Craig, 408 Orchard avenue. The occasion marked her ninth birthday anniversary.

A variety of merry games and contests held the attention of the eighteen guests throughout the afternoon with the prizes going to Ruth Kelly, Clara Parancenzo, Mary Esther Angello and Jean Miller.

Pretty appointed refreshments including a large birthday cake was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Mervin Cunningham.

Sally Ann was the recipient of many attractive birthday gifts.

Shoemaker-Evans Family Reunion

Event Honors Rev. And Mrs. J. E. Shoemaker, Of Oakland, Cal.

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 8.—On Saturday afternoon, seventy-eight members of the Evans-Shoemaker families assembled at Ewing Park for a family gathering that proved most delightful.

At tables decorated with autumn flowers, a delicious dinner was served. The reunion was held in honor of Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Shoemaker, of Oakland, Calif., who are visiting here.

C. W. Shoemaker and D. A. Evans were appointed to have a history of the Shoemaker family published the same compiled by Miss Mary Shoemaker, of Beaver Falls.

Games were enjoyed in the afternoon with the nice awards being won by Frances Morrow, Charles Ziegler, Patty Moorehead, Joyce and Janice Evans, Marjorie Lu Cook, and Patty Morrison.

Families represented were: J. R. and Mary Shoemaker Evans, 30; David Shoemaker, 2; Eliza Warnock, 10; Henrietta Buller, 4; Isabella Van Gorder, 8; John Shoemaker, 2; Amanda Brown, 4; Margaret Bordeaux, 7; Emma Newton, 5; Milo Shoemaker, 6. The group came from Oakland, Calif., Uniontown, Beaver Falls, New Castle, and Ellwood.

Lasso-Fusco Wedding Today

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 8.—This morning at 9:30 o'clock at the Blessed Virgin Mary church, Fourth street, a pretty wedding was solemnized uniting in marriage Miss Helen Lasso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Lasso, of Division avenue, and James Fusco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fusco, this city.

Rev. Fr. Vincent Galliano was assisted in conducting the rites by Father Fusco, of Baltimore, a brother of the bridegroom.

For her marriage, the bride chose traditional white satin fashioned with a slight train and veil of tulle and lace. She carried an arm bouquet of roses and orchids. Miss Nancy Petrie was the maid of honor and wore a pretty gown of blue tulle and carried red roses.

John Genevieve, of Rochester, served as best man.

Following a wedding dinner for the families and friends at the bride's home, the couple departed on a southern wedding trip. They will reside in this city where Mr. Fusco is employed by the National Tube Company.

Family Reunion At Mondell Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 8.—A delightful event of Sunday took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Mondell, of Franklin avenue, and marked the first reunion of Mrs. Mondell with her two sisters and brother in twenty-seven years.

Arriving on Saturday to visit for sometime at the Mondell home, were her sister and brother, Susan and Lester R. Taylor, of San Francisco, Calif., and another sister, Lydia J. Taylor, of Chicago, Ill. They are also visiting with their father, John Taylor, who resides at the Mondell home.

The get-together also marked three birthday anniversaries those of Mrs. Mondell, Mr. Taylor and Lydia Taylor. The party was arranged by children of Mrs. Mondell, including Mr. and Mrs. Dennes Toth, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Mondell Jr. of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dalton, of Wampum, and Mrs. Edward Sedar, of Midland.

After a delectable dinner was enjoyed, lovely gifts were presented to the birthday celebrators.

Frank R. Krause Mark Anniversary

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 8.—A pleasant, enjoyable celebration of Saturday evening took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Krause, of Glen avenue, with the occasion marking the silver wedding anniversary of the couple.

The event began with the serving of a very delicious dinner to twenty-five guests by Mrs. Krause's sisters, Mrs. J. E. Osterling and Ethel Tury. The home was beautifully decorated throughout with choice garden flowers.

Conversation and games directed by Dick Krause held the attention of the guests throughout the evening in a merry manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Krause were presented with many attractive gifts, as remembrances of the happy occasion.

Bruce Myers To Be Honored By Elks

Appreciation Dinner To Be Tendered Leading Member Of Local, District Groups

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 8.—One of Ellwood City's leading and popular exponents of Elkdom, Bruce Myers, will be honored with an appreciation and farewell dinner by associate lodge members on Saturday evening, September 13, at the Elks home, Crescent avenue.

The event started out to be a testimonial dinner in honor of his election sometime ago to the presidency of the Northwest Association of Pennsylvania Elks, but because of his having moved to Martins Ferry, O., recently, this dinner will be a farewell and appreciation of his work here during the past 13 years.

On February 8, 1928, he joined the local order, and being an ardent worker was elected exalted ruler in 1936, and that same year was honored by the state organization as the outstanding exalted ruler in Pennsylvania. While exalted ruler he was responsible in a large degree for the building of the addition to the present Elks home, Crescent avenue.

At the present time, he is secretary of the board of trustees of the local lodge, and president of the Northwest Association. He has been a leader in ritualistic work for the past eight years, and also served as a past vice president of the district group.

Leading Elk dignitaries throughout the territory will be in attendance and will take part in the program. Dancing and entertainment will follow the dinner, which will begin at 8 o'clock.

A friend chicken dinner will be served under the direction of Lou Young, club steward, and reservations must be in no later than Thursday of this week.

Arrangements are in charge of Frank Polak, general chairman with Thomas J. Newman in direct charge of details, assisted by George Pomaught, A. L. Gregory, James Reasman, Joseph P. Smith, Frank Fitzgerald, Ernest Guerriero, John H. Ohi, J. Wilson Bonzo, Joseph Craig, Merit Book, Louis Young, Morris Phelps, and William Brophy.

Golden Wedding Observed Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Bleakney Mark Anniversary With Family And Friends

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 8.—A memorable event of Sunday took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Bleakney, Rose Point, being the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary.

At 1 o'clock the guests gathered at a nearby dining room for a family dinner, with all of the nine children of the couple being in attendance.

After the delicious dinner, the group returned to the home where open house was observed in the afternoon and evening. During the day, about 125 friends and relatives called to offer best wishes and congratulations to the esteemed couple. Guests attended from Warren, Butler, Pittsburgh, Ellwood City, New Castle, New Bedford and many other surrounding towns.

As the guests came and went, they were served dainty refreshments by the daughters and daughters-in-law. Attractive gold and white appointments were featured and the table was prettily centered with a large wedding cake.

In the afternoon, a brief, congratulatory talk was given by Rev. P. R. Schillinger of New Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. Bleakney were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, flowers and cards as remembrances of the golden milestone.

HARVEST HOME SERVICE SUNDAY

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 8.—An abundance of fruits, vegetables and flowers adorned the Lilyville Lutheran church on Sunday afternoon, when the annual harvest home service was held.

The service was well attended, and later in the day the offerings of harvest products were taken to the Old People's home at Zelenople by the pastor, Rev. W. E. Mitchell.

Four-H Girls Have Round-Up

Present Splendid Program
Saturday Afternoon In Union High School

FIVE CLUBS ARE
100 PER CENT

Five 4-H clubs in Lawrence county achieved 100 per cent recognition at the seventh annual county-wide round-up, which took place in Union high school, Saturday.

These clubs, Mahoning, Perry, Plaingrove, Willard and Wurttemberg, completed all the requirements for 100 per cent recognition and in recognition, received a charter with gold seal. Pulaski club, with 85 per cent completion, received a charter with silver seal.

There were 190 girls who took part in the round-up, and some splendid work was exhibited, which was judged at the morning session for the girls alone, following which there was a recreation period led by Mary Eleanor Kretzer and Wanda McCullough who attended the annual Club Week at State College.

Afternoon Program

The afternoon program opened with the club pledge, led by Ruth Wilson, of New Wilmington, followed by a solo by Wanda Koach. A canning demonstration playlet, "Meals Ahead," was presented by Wanda McCullough, Mary Eleanor Kretzer, Marie Book, and Jane Brown, which had been presented at Club Week. This showed the planning of the garden with the idea of raising vegetables to can.

"Foods and clothing in China and Malay Peninsula countries" was discussed by Rev. Mary Johnson, of the Wurttemberg Methodist church, and Miss Geraldine Johnson, a missionary to China. Dresses were modeled by club girls, and the foods that are eaten there were shown, along with the dishes used, which proved very interesting.

Each club meeting requires a demonstration, and an ideal one was presented by the Plaingrove club, while Wurttemberg club gave a "Treasure Hunt" showing the things to look for when buying a hat.

East Brook club gave a playlet entitled "Who Plans the Thing," which was also interesting, while Harlansburg club gave a revue of club work, showing first, second, and third year clothing work, wardrobe club work, room improvement, breakfast and supper club work, and canning club, each of the girls specializing in the latter work showing four cans of foodstuffs named this summer. Some of the girls enrolled have done all the family canning, having several hundred cans of fruits and vegetables to their credit.

East Brook and Mahoning Township Clubs received recognition at this point for community representation, each having the same number from their districts.

The awards were then presented by Miss Elsie Trabert, assistant 4-H Club Leader from State College, and local leaders.

Big Beaver Club present a splendid drill, the girls wearing red, white, and blue costumes, and ended up by forming a flag.

Agnes Weller of Willard Grange was program chairman, while the music was in charge of Hannar Peebles, of Harlansburg, and Edith Shira, of Princeton, assisted by the song leaders of the various clubs.

Leaders At Meet

Game leaders who assisted with the morning recreation program under Misses McCullough and Kretzer, were Marie McAnis, Big Beaver; Janet Rote, East Brook; Ruth Fautet, Enon Valley; Irene Cornelius, Fayette; Jane Brown, Harlansburg; Frances Ambrosia, Mahoning; Grace Matheny, Mahoning; Lois Breenman, Perry; Joanne Shira, Plaingrove; Betty Kellar, Pulaski; Phyllis Peterson, Union; Betty Kwiat, Willard; Alice Frew, Wilmington.

Song Leaders were: Helen McBride, Big Beaver; Betty Booher, East Brook; Joanne Riddle, Enon Valley; Shirley Sipe, Fayette; Dorothy Kildoo, Harlansburg; Frances Ambrosia, Mahoning; Dorothy Jane Jenkins, Mahoning; Mary Weller, Perry; Emogene Minor, Plaingrove; Virginia Sikora, Pulaski; Leona Heckart, Union; Pauline Cappolina, Willard; Eleanor Garret, Wilmington; Wanda Koach, Wurttemberg.

Club leaders, who have done much to further the work of the Four-H home economics clubs during the past year, are as follows:

Value Of Timber In Pennsylvania Shows Increase

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 8.—Farm woodlots in Pennsylvania constitute about 27 percent of the total wooded area and contain about 50 percent of the merchantable saw timber found within the state. Their economic importance is augmented by the fact that they occupy the best of our forest soils, are so situated that they can be easily protected from fire and in most cases are readily accessible to a market.

Secretary G. Albert Stewart, of the Department of Forests and Waters, points out that with the increased demand for wood products at the present time, and the steady decrease in the amount of mature stands of timber throughout the state, the relative value of these small timber lots is rapidly increasing. As a result, the owners of these 3,668,000 acres of woodlot forests should place them on a permanent production basis by regulating the cutting of timber trees.

Upon application, the Department of Forests and Waters will assist woodlot owners in the proper management of these forest areas. This service is free and includes suggestions and advice with respect to protecting the forest from fire, recommendations for reforestation, advice as to cutting operations, information on the volume of mature trees and present market conditions. A pamphlet entitled, "Estimating Timber on the Farm Woodlot" is furnished free upon request. This pamphlet contains instructions for determining the volume of standing timber and logs of different species and dimensions.

The chief economic reason for growing timber on the farm is to get a money return from areas which would otherwise be unproductive. The proper handling of farm woodlots results in financial profits and increases the value of property as an investment. Even if the farmer does not sell timber, the care of the woodlot pays in many ways. Fuel wood is an important farm woodlot crop and the removal of dying trees and inferior species for fire wood results in faster growth of the more valuable trees.

The entire membership of a boys' club from Covington, Ky., 12 in all, enlisted in the navy as a group in Cincinnati, O. The boys were members of a club known as the Dew Drop Inn club. The members, who were all between the ages of 17 and 19 years, passed a resolution at one of their meetings to join the navy in a body. They presented themselves at the Navy Recruiting station in Cincinnati and passed the physical and mental examinations to a man. They were promptly sworn in and forwarded to Great Lakes. All the boys had attended the Holmes High school, Covington, Ky.

BURNED BY ACID
Charles Thompson, aged two years, of R. F. D. No. 5 was treated for acid burns at the Jameson Memorial hospital Sunday morning at 11:10 o'clock, received when the little tot got into the liquid which was on the porch of the Thompson home. He was able to be taken home after receiving treatment.

To Build Power Plant Addition

YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 8.—The Ohio Edison Co. will erect a new addition to its Toronto power station, costing approximately $3,600,000 and capable of producing 40,000 kilowatts. A. C. Blinn, president, announced in Akron Saturday.

Plans for the new addition are already under way. Construction is to start next spring and completion is scheduled for the fall of 1943, Blinn said.

The new equipment will be the sixth generating unit at the Toronto plant and will increase the total producing capacity from 180,000 to 220,000 kilowatts.

Blinn said the construction project was designed to keep producing facilities well ahead of the constantly mounting demands for electric power occasioned by national defense.

WE GUARANTEE the total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay, when payments are made on schedule. You will pay less if you pay your loan ahead of time since you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Payments include charges at Household's rate of 2 1/2% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100 and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. This rate is less than the maximum permitted by the Small Loan Law.

Can you make good use of $100? Investigate our loan plans to-day. Household Finance offers three simple ways for you to borrow up to $300. Your loan will be made the way which best suits your own situation.

1. Signature loans. No security needed. These loans are made, under proper conditions, to both single persons and married couples.

2. Auto loans. A loan on your car may best fit your needs.

3. Furniture loans. Here character and regular income are far more important than the value of your security. Many borrowers use this plan.

No endorsers needed

Whichever way you borrow, it is not necessary to ask friends or fellow-workers to act as endorsers. And at no time do we question friends or relatives about your money affairs. You get the loan you need simply, privately and speedily.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 8.—Failure of other political parties to win enough votes at the preceding election will result in only Republican and Democratic candidates on the ballots in Tuesday's primary election. Leaders of both parties admit that interest in the balloting will be very light except for the state judicial courts. For the superior court the Democrats have approved Judge Michael A. Musmanno, crusading Allegheny county jurist and former member of the state house of representatives, and for the supreme court named Judge W. Russell Carr, commissioned to the Fayette county bench in 1938 for a 10-year term. Judge Musmanno's term expires in 1943.

Good news for relief recipients in the form of increased shelter and food grants may come out of the meeting of the seven-member state board of public assistance at Harrisburg September 2. Recipients have persistently told the department of public assistance that the rising cost of living necessitated higher grants for food and shelter. Indicative of the board's action may be the remark by Governor Arthur H. James who commented that "there were inequalities" in the present scale. Pennsylvania pays the highest benefits of any state in the nation and is topped only by the scale in New York City. The relief set-up in New York is divided into two sections, metropolitan New York and the state. Different benefit scales exist in each area.

President Judge William M. Hardest of the Dauphin county common pleas court will make this third bid for re-election to the bench for a 10-year term at the primary election. Judge Hargest, who was appointed to the bench in 1920 and re-elected in 1921 and 1931, handles most of the litigation involving the commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The 73-year-old jurist, one of the seven common pleas judges in the state who have been on the bench since 1920, has handed down opinions in all the important cases involving the state. It is an accepted fact among members of the legal profession that Judge Hargest only has been reversed by higher courts a few times. "Supreme Court Chief Justice William L. Schafer once remarked that Judge Hargest was one of the most able jurists in the state."

Few Pennsylvanians know the distinction between the two high courts. The supreme court was established by an act of the Provincial Assembly in 1722 while the superior court did not come into being until 1895, after the other court was swamped with work. The supreme court is a part of the constitutional framework of the state government while the superior court was established by an act of assembly. The jurisdiction of the two courts differs in that the upper tribunal is the last resort in the commonwealth and the civil cases appealed must exceed $2,500. It also handles cases involving felonious homicide. The superior court disposes of civil cases on appeal in which the amount in controversy does not exceed $2,500. Public Utility Commission litigation, workmen's compensation cases and all other appeals, except in felonious homicide cases.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 8.—Employment in Pennsylvania totaled 3,547,011 in June, a record for 1941, according to a monthly survey released today by Secretary of Labor and Industry Lewis G. Hines.

According to the report, the metals transportation equipment and textile groups continued their steady rise, accounting for nearly half the total employment gain during the month.

Collect $3,145 For War Relief Work

(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 8.—The central council of Polish organization, New Castle, had collected $3,145 for war relief work in France, Poland and England up to the beginning of August, the State Department reported today.

Of this amount, $1,995 had been actually spent for relief activity. Funds expended for administration, publicity and the like aggregated $47. This left an unobligated balance of $1,101 available as of August 1 for war relief in the three nations.

Estimate Tree Is Over 500 Years Old

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 8.—The largest rock or chestnut oak on record in the Department of Forests and Waters is located in Oley valley, according to Chas. E. Baer, deputy secretary.

This tree is known as the sacred oak of the Delaware Indians and has figured prominently in the history and Indian lore of this section. As long as the Indians remained in Oley valley the tree sheltered many tribal and religious meetings. The Indians told the early settlers that this tree was blessed above all others.

When the tribe was in trouble or illness, they would go to this tree. A great chief once brought to it his squaw who was very ill, and while the medicine men performed their rites and duties, the chief and his squaw prayed to the "Great Spirit" and it is recorded that the squaw recovered and walked away.

The age of the tree is estimated to be over 500 years of age, with a circumference of 18 feet. The large branches have an average spread of 108 feet. Mr. Baer estimates that the tree contains about 20 cords of woods, which have a heating value of about 20 tons of coal.

Cotton production in Mexico this year is expected to be appreciably above average, the Department of Commerce reported.

Football Outlook At Penn Not Good

Head Coach Munger Reveals
Loss Of 14 Lettermen
From Fine 1940 Squad

Penn Will Go To Camp September 11 With Just Fair
Material On Hand

By FRANK BURKE
(International News Service Staff Writer)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—With the "greenest and most inexperienced" squad in years, the University of Pennsylvania's 1941 football team fails to approach last year's great bicentennial outfit which pulled the nation's biggest crowds into Franklin Field, Head Coach George Munger confessed today.

"We've lost 14 lettermen from the 1940 crowd, and there aren't equal replacements for any of them," said Munger, starting his fourth year, in a preview of Penn's fall grid prospects. "We'll just have to feel our way around before we can hope our strategy for the coming season."

Will Start Training

Fifty red and blue hopefuls start for training camp at Hershey, Pa., on September 11 and return to the campus in eight days. The squad will have two weeks of one-practice-a-day before the opening game with a good Harvard team on October 4.

"Penn won six, lost one and tied one last year—but we don't expect that record now," continued the young coach. "This year we play Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Maryland, Navy, Columbia, Army and Cornell in that order. Our information is that practically all of them will be tougher this year—especially Navy and Harvard."

A body blow to the Quakers this year, Munger said, was the loss of Fullback Eddie Allen, now in the Aviation Corps via the draft. Still others might be lost to Uncle Sam, but the Penn coaching staff declined to discuss the status of remaining squad members. They're going to let the draft boards do the talking.

Star Backfield Gone

"I have to replace a star backfield and line," explained Munger, "with new men, most of whom haven't played under pressure and who haven't the experience and poise we need. I don't have any idea yet what sort of offensive or defensive plans we'll follow until I get a better line on the candidates. I definitely have no plans to use the famous 'T' formation."

"As it stands now," continued Munger, "we have just a fair first-string team. Our backfield lines up as Parsons, Gifford, tailback; Bert Stiff, fullback; Johnny Welsh, wingback; and Gene Davis, captain and blocking back."

"On the line there are two good ends, Bernie Kuczyński and six-foot three Herb Nelson; Don Butler at center; Al Brechka and Mort Shiekman at guard, and Jack Cohen and Walt Moeling at tackle. They are a good bunch, but certainly not up to last year's crop.

Plenty Of Material
"Best backfield replacement possibly is Bill Miller, who's an excellent passer and will back up Gifford," said Coach Munger. "But I can't think of any outstanding replacement on the line."

A major problem in tactics, Munger said, will be to develop a forward pass defense such as Penn showed last year, when the Red and Blue intercepted 35 forwards for a total gain of 372 yards—a new national record surpassing the 411-yard mark set by University of Mississippi in 1937.

Lost by graduation were All-American Halfback Frank Reagan, who scored 103 of Penn's 247 points last year; Tony Chizmadia, Herb Rainwater, Johnny Dutcher and Paul Wexler and these linemen—Captain Center Ray Frick, Tackles Cliff Engler and Rick Yard, End Len Warner, and Guards Bob Hunt and Irv Mendelson.

All Win Matches Over
Week-End

In some of the best played matches of the summer, the seeded first four in the Lawrence county tennis tourney came through victorious in matches played over the week-end.

Fred Daubenspeck, of Ellwood City, defending champion; Joe Ross, and Al Jones all win matches. Andy Anderson defeated Al Morrow, 6-3, 6-3. Bob Meermans defeated Howard Lyons, 6-4, 6-4. Tommy Jones won by default from Harold Fleming.

Joe Ross defeated Ray Miller, 7-5, 6-4. Al Jones defeated Andy Anderson, 6-3, 6-2. Harry Amos defeated Bill Campbell, 6-3, 6-1. Tommy Jones defeated Manny Weller, 8-6, 6-3. Harry Amos defeated Wick Fraley, 6-4, 6-3.

Matches for Tonight

Two quarter-final matches are on the card for tonight. Joe Ross meets Fred Daubenspeck at Mears court at 4:30 o'clock.

Fred Daubenspeck meets Bob Meermans at Cienmore court at five o'clock.

The matches on Tuesday will be semi-final matches and will be played between the winners of the Daubenspeck-Meermans match vs. winner of Tommy Jones-Ross match, at the Cienmore court, at five o'clock.

The other semi-final will be played at the Mears court and will bring together Al Jones vs. Harry Amos.

The finals in the singles will be played Wednesday at the Mears court, it was announced.

Play in the doubles tourney will start Thursday evening. All teams from any part of Lawrence county are requested to leave their entries at 830 Butler avenue, on or before Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. The entry fee for the doubles teams will be $1.00 per team.

Moose Golfers Win Playoff At Sylvan Heights

Capture Championship In Hardfought Match At City Course Sunday
Afternoon

ANNUAL DINNER
FOLLOWS MATCH

After the smoke of battle had cleared away at the Sylvan Heights course Sunday afternoon and the points were tallied up, it was found that the New Castle Moose golf team had again captured the Sylvan Heights league title for the second successive year, winning by a score of 9½ to 8½ in a special 18-hole match.

The Moose golfers were hard-pressed all the way. Chinky Dutkin, Pottery ace, coming in with a par round of 72 to take medalist honors.

Every player on the Moose team bore down and put up a typical under-dog battle, which brought results in the end, as the Pottery team with two previous victories over the Mooers during the regular season, were the favorites.

The teams lined up with Hackett Kennedy, Timmy Lombardo, Carl McIntire, Dom Dimco, Art Prioretti and Frank Summers representing the Moose; while carrying the colors for the potters were: Pete Dimco, James Gaione, Chinky Dutkin, "Ang" Cimlini, Ted Bukowski and Fred Lombardo.

After the golf match the annual banquet took place, with over a hundred league members and a few special guests taking part. Joe Smith, Shelby socialite, was toast-master and did a splendid job. He was introduced by Martin Kovach, league secretary, and called on William T. Saul, dean of golfers at the course, for the first remarks.

Others who spoke and reminisced about the league season and events at the course during the summer, were: Frank DeMauro, Martin Kovach, Frank Summers and Joe Platt, U. S. G. A. representative for western Pennsylvania.

Councilman Joe Alexander, director of public parks, thanked the golfers for the fine support which has been accorded the course this summer, and stated that the receipts this year are away ahead of any year for some time.

Judge Charles Matthews Jr. and District Attorney John K. Lamore also spoke briefly.

President Geno Veri of the league was then called upon and thanked the teams for their fine spirit during the season, which resulted in the past year seeing one of the most successful seasons the league has enjoyed.

He called Mike Lombardo, captain of the Moose team, to the platform and presented him with the handsome trophy, emblematic of the league championship, which was the gift of the other teams in the league.

Lombardo introduced the members of the team, while Capt. Pete Dimco of the Shenango Pottery, runners-up in the league, presented his team which has put up a game fight all summer, winning the first half in handy fashion.

Harry Mehlman, the principal speaker of the evening, stressed the many benefits that golf brings to those taking part in it, and commended the players in the league for their fine sportsmanship.

Louis Malls Drops One Into
Cup On Hard No. 8 Hole
Sunday Afternoon

While the Moose and Shenango Pottery team were battling away for the Sylvan Heights League championship Sunday afternoon, Louis Malls, one of the course aces, was also dropping himself with a little honor, dropping his tee shot into the cup on the 137-yard No. 8 hole, one of the toughest on the course.

Using a No. 6 iron, Malls dropped the ball within inches of the cup, and then saw it trickle beautifully into the hole.

Playing with him were: Harry Toscano, Joe Mazzeri, and Andy De Lorenzo.

The youngster showed a lot of promise for a first-year boy and it is unfortunate that he had to meet with an injury which will cause him to give up football for this year at least.

Shenango, Union Season Openers On Next Friday

Union Township At Ellwood
City High; Evans City At Shenango Field

Two of Lawrence County's Class B grid powers—Union Township and Shenango Township—inaugurate the season Friday.

Union Township faces its stiffest assignment of the campaign, meeting Ellwood City high, Friday night, at Ellwood City. This match marks the opening of 1941 grid hostilities for both aggregations.

The Scotland Lane squad starts final drills this afternoon. Coach John J. Susko today stated that his gridgers are rounding into good early season condition.

At East New Castle, Shenango Township high is griding for its No. 1 foe, Evans City high, Friday afternoon on Shenango field.

With a sprinkling of vets left from the 1940 combo, Coach Frank Nocera is banking on numerous youngsters to carry the blue and gold colors through an auspicious semester of football.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Second half of the Lawrence County Baseball league may terminate with a game at 5:30 p. m. at Hillsville today. Ellwood City, first half winner, will be in an invader's role. Ellwood City and Hillsville recently played a time to time game. If Hillsville wins they will have won the second half and will meet Ellwood City, the first half winner, for the title.

Tonight in Washington, Sammy Angott, N. B. A. light-weight champion, and Pete Galiano of Baltimore engaged in a 10-round bout and one week from tonight Pittsburgh will have an All-Star boxing show in which Fritz Zivic, former welterweight champion, will box Milt Aron of Chicago. There is no boxing show in this city tonight.

The Pittsburgh Steelers dropped their game at Akron, Cleveland winning, 17 to 14. Bobby Riggs defeated Frank Kovacs for the national tennis singles championship at Forest Hills Sunday, 5-7, 6-1, 6-3, 6-3. Sarah Palfrey Cooke defeated Pauline Betz for the women's title, 7-5, 6-2.

Byron Nelson took the $11,000 M. O'Shanter open golf tournament with 10 under par, with a total of 278 for 72 holes. Leonard Dodson and Ben Hogan tied for second place with 279 each and in California, Ernie Pieper Jr. of San Jose won the California amateur golf championship.

SHAKY BEGINNINGS
CINCINNATI—"Bucky" Walters, Cincinnati ace pitcher, is noted for being a bit shaky at the beginning of games. Walters has yielded most of the runs scored against him in the first inning.

Notes scribbled in between the scrimmages:—
New Castle high's 29th gridiron premiere started at 8:06 o'clock Friday night. . . about 7,000 excited customers, one of the top first night galleries, executed the traditional kick-off time ceremony at Cleveo. Grove City back stepped into the new shiny white pig hide.

Bob Stewart basketed the end over end boot, thus becoming the first schoolboy to lug the ball in an official fracas.

Robert (inevitably "General") Lee chalked off the initial scrimmage. . . Two plays later, Stewart marked off the first down of the season for New Castle. It was also the No. 1 first down of the year.

For a while it looked like a Habeas Corpus writ was the only thing that was going to halt the "Hurricane" march. Presto, Lee contributed the first fumble and the initial recovery.

On the next play, Lee stepped back and recorded the first punt. . . Grove City was off side and drew penalty No. 1-5 yards.

Beynon, New Castle lineman, was the first substitute of the season. . . The first aerial bomb, tossed by Lee and intended for Parou, was grounded. . . The first completion of the season, Lee to Parou, was good for 27 yards and paved the way to New Castle's victory.

Zubkovsky, a New Castle wingman, had the wind knocked out of him and thus became the first injured gridder. . . Bob Doster rang the bell for the first touchdown of the year on one of the oldest and one of New Castle's favorite plays—the Statue of Liberty. . . Lee held

West Pittsburg Defeats Indies

Dombeck Pitches Steady Six-
Hit Game As "Gas
Housers" Win

Behind the steady six-hit pitching of Dombeck, the West Pittsburg "Gas House" baseball team defeated the Lawrence Indies at the Cedar Street field on Sunday in the first game of the Shaugnessey playoff, 11 to 2.

Dombeck fanned three men and for the first six innings did not give the heavy hitting Indies team a hit. Besides hurling a great game, Dombeck was one of the feature nitters, cracking out a long homer.

Byak also had a homer for the Indies. Other extra-base hits were made by Cionni, A. Marky, James Marky, John Marky and H. Koszela.

The Indies used three hurlers, Morrison, Soho and Majocha, in an effort to throttle the "Gas Housers" but to no avail.

The two teams will play again next Sunday at the West Pittsburg field at 3 o'clock.

McKeesport Nabs
Grid Opener, 6-0

McKeesport high, New Castle high's October 10 opponent, opened the current campaign with a 6-0 victory over East Pittsburg, Saturday at McKeesport.

The New Castle-McKeesport game is billed for McKeesport.

Scott high of North Braddock, New Castle's foe on October 31, faces Ford City high tonight.

Notes scribbled in between the scrimmages:—
The oval as Doster scooted around, plucked the ball and cakewalked into fertile terrain.

Rousos, kid brother of "Soc", took a fling at the first extra point conversion. The boot hit a mess of Grove City men. . . Rousos also socked out the first kickoff for the "Hurricane". . . Phil H. Bridenbaugh, New Castle's coach, was the first person to arise from his seat. "Bridy" has held this laurel for sometime.

The press' nest was as neat as a chornie's hands. To which, "Bugs", Bart and the rest of the scribblers say thanks to the janitors for remembering us. . . "Dick" Peebles, Sharon scribe, said a lot of nice things about the local football plant. Coming from him, the compliment is really worth something.

"Whitey" Siljander, of Butler, was among the visiting mentors in the stands.

Jimmy "Santa" Claus, who doesn't miss a trick, was one of the busiest lads on hand. . . Ralph H. Gardner, the former faculty manager, looking quite chipper. R. H. was on the shelf for a while. . . "Scoots" Nelson, the faculty manager, who does everything but play the concertina in the band, wearing a broad smile, despite the fact that he must have been the most fatigued person around the stadium.

Mike DeCarbo, who formerly performed in a New Castle muleskin, served a double hitch. He acted as a linesman and then helped out around the dressing room following the clash. . . "Gig" Thomas, "Bill" Klee and Paul C. Cline, assistant coaches, who have been on the "go" since the opening of drills 12 days ago, gave a sigh of relief when the game ended.

Dodgers Increase Lead In League

Defeat Giants Twice In Sunday Games, Cards And Reds Split

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Pennant-bound or merely travelling toward the frustration that has become traditional with them, the Brooklyn Dodgers headed into the West today for their final tour of the year with the National League championship riding on every pitch and every swing of the bat. It is do or die for them now, as they seek entry into the world series for the first time since 1920, some phases of the race through the closing strides of the stretch favoring them, others running for the second place St. Louis Cardinals.

All of the clubs in both major leagues died today, and all attention was centered on the Dodgers and Cards, who are hurtling toward a head-on-clash at St. Louis that may settle everything.

Dodgers Battle Cubs
Holding a lead of three full games, the Dodgers play the Cubs at Chicago tomorrow and Wednesday, then go into the Cardinal stronghold for the season's most important series. Meantime, while awaiting the Dodgers the Cards will be tangling with the Philadelphia Phillies, and probably winning. At any rate, they have a better chance to gain some ground than the Dodgers have of increasing their lead between now and the meeting between the two contenders.

The Cardinals have an edge the rest of the way out, in that they will be playing most of their remaining games at home. However, the Dodgers meet the Phillies and Boston Braves in their last seven games, and the baseball wise regard this as something of a break, in view of the records of those two struggling outfits.

The Dodgers increased their edge appreciably yesterday by taking two from the Giants, while the Cards were splitting with the Reds. Kirby Higby hurled a six-hitter in scoring his 20th victory, 13 to 1, in the opener for the Dodgers, and Hugh Casey was credited with his 12th win in a relief role for Whit Wyatt in the nightcap, which went 10 innings and ended 4 to 3.

Tigers Take Two

Harry Gumbert scored his ninth win for the Cards in their opener, 11 to 7, after relieving Howard Krist, while in the second set Elmer McDermott scored his 16th win for the Reds, 3 to 2 over Mort Cooper, who failed to finish.

Boston beat Philadelphia, 17 to 6 and 10 to 1, and Chicago trimmed Pittsburgh, 3 to 1.

Lefty Gomez won his 14th victory for the Yankees in the American League as they increased their lead to 20½ games over their victims, the Boston Red Sox, now fighting for a second place finish. The Yanks won by 8 to 5.

The Chicago White Sox remained 21 games off the pace by losing to the St. Louis Browns, 3 to 1.

The Detroit Tigers pulled up to within a half game of the fourth-place Cleveland Indians by defeating the latter, 4 to 1, while Washington beat Philadelphia's Athletics, 3 to 2 and 4 to 2.

Representatives of the Pittsburgh Chapter of the Eastern Association of Intercollegiate football officials will be at the New Castle Senior High building at 7 o'clock on Tuesday evening to interpret the rules changes in football for the coaches of the district.

The meeting is open to all coaches in the district who care to attend. There are a number of changes this year and the Pittsburgh men will discuss them with the local coaches.

DiMuccio Undergoes
Operation Tuesday

Mike "Moxie" DiMuccio, ex-New Castle high football satellite, has been admitted to Cleveland Clinic where he will undergo a serious operation, probably Tuesday morning.

The South Jefferson street man sustained a right shoulder injury sometime ago. DiMuccio's right arm and part of the shoulder may be amputated.

Moose Defeats Elders 7 To 4

Joe Frigone Hurls Four-Hit
Game As Moose Take
Sunday Game

Joe Frigone hurled four-hit ball yesterday at Marshall field as the Moose defeated the Elders 7 to 4 in the first game of the Shaugnessey playoff.

The Elders could not do anything with Frigone until the first of the ninth and then they put over two runs. The Moose climbed on Gunnnett for 11 hits, with Annarella having a homer to be the feature hit.

Doubles were hit by Mash, Huff, Frigone, Guinaugh and Strausbaugh. The same two teams will play next Sunday at Marshall field at 3 o'clock.

IMPORTANT:

Much of the merchandise bought for the Fall Festival has been purchased before the last market increase. The items so purchased represent very wonderful values, especially when compared to today's prices.

All merchandise taken from our regular stocks is reduced from former low prices, and these values may not be seen again for a long time.

Due to conditions with which all of you are familiar, many items are hard to buy for quick delivery. We urge everyone who wishes to save now to buy early in the sale. We cannot tell how long quantities will last and we do know that some items cannot be replenished.

We have refrained from using comparative prices, because wholesale costs are changing daily.

STOCKS

Stock Market Is Quiet Today

Renewed Activity And Strength In Aircraft Shares Features Market

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Renewed activity and strength in aircraft shares, and demand for scattered specialties stood out today in an otherwise quiet stock market.

Gains in air stocks ran to 2 points in Douglas and Consolidated, the latter reaching a new high for the year. Boeing, which opened on a block of 2,000 shares and later ran up almost 2 points, and Glenn L. Martin, up more than a point, also were at new tops.

Western Union and Postal Telegraph preferred both moved up to new 1941 peaks in active dealings. Buying reflected persistent reports that merger action was near.

Other features on the upside were N. Y. Shipbuilding, Gimbel Bros., and Borg-Warner, each at new tops, and Libbey-Owens-Ford on a rise of well over a point.

Bethlehem and U. S. Steel led steelers fractionally higher. DuPont was a share above Saturday's close in an otherwise soft chemical group. Chrysler advanced almost a point, but General Motors was backward. Anaconda and Kennecott lagged in a mixed copper group.

National Can was under pressure, slipping a fraction to a new low for the year.

Cleveland Rams Defeat Steelers

Pro Football League Gets Under Way With Rams Winning 17 To 14

(International News Service) The Cleveland Rams leaped to a premature lead in the National Professional Football league and rested there on the pinnacle today while nearly all other clubs remained busy polishing up their plays and trying them out in exhibition duels.

Parker Hall, former University of Mississippi ace, pitched the Rams to a 17-14 decision over the Pittsburgh Steelers in the league's inaugural at Akron, O., yesterday.

Hall hurled a 10-yard touchdown pass to end Paul McDonough for the pay-off score in the second quarter, and Cliff Adams booted the extra point. This was the finishing touch to a previous touchdown by Dante Magnani and Adams' field goal and extra point in the first period.

Elmer Hackney and Don Jones sparked the Steelers' futile rally with a touchdown each in the second quarter and Sanders placed the extra points. The last half was a scoreless stalemate.

Elsewhere, league entries were officially idle.

The Chicago Bears loomed as a strong championship contender by thumping the New York Giants, 14 to 8, in an exhibition at Chicago. The Green Bay Packers nudged Philadelphia, 28 to 21.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, who face the Bears Tuesday in an exhibition game at Brooklyn, prepared themselves in a blackboard drill yesterday as Coach Jock Sutherland announced his starting backfield for the opener would be Merlyn Condit, Bill Leckonby, Pug Manders and Wendell Butcher.

Reach Finals In Field Club Golf

Oil Witness

Testifying before the Senate committee investigating the Eastern oil shortage, Ralph Budd, transportation commissioner of the advisory commission to the council of national defense, explains that no pipelines could be built at the expense of diverting steel from other defense purposes. He declared the metal was needed more for vital railway car and locomotive building.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

STORE VEGETABLES RIGHT FOR KEEPING CONDITION

When vegetables are stored their temperature and humidity needs must be met if the products are to maintain their quality. Only sound and uninjured vegetables should be put in storage if best results are to be obtained.

Tomatoes, egg plants, and peppers keep best in a temperature just under 60 degrees Fahrenheit and with 95 per cent relative humidity. Sweet potatoes need 80 per cent humidity and a temperature of 50 degrees to 60 degrees.

For pumpkins and squashes the temperature requirement is 40 to 50 degrees and the humidity needs to be 60 per cent.

Cabbage, Brussels sprouts, kale, celery, Chinese cabbage, endive, and escarole store best between 33 and 40 degrees and a humidity of 90 per cent.

Beets, carrots, winter radishes, rutabagas, turnips, parsnips, and salsify require a temperature between 33 and 40 degrees and a humidity of 90 per cent.

Onions and winter melons take 33 to 40 degrees temperature and 85 per cent humidity.

HORMONE SPRAY REDUCES EARLY DROP OF APPLES

Orchardists of Lawrence county have shown considerable interest in the new "harvest spray" or hormone spray for preventing pre-harvest drop of apples.

By causing the fruit to hang better, not only is much of the loss from drop apples avoided—but it is also possible to obtain better color and somewhat better size.

Last year this material was used for the first time on a commercial scale in a number of Pennsylvania orchards and in neighboring states. The results were variable. In some cases very striking results were obtained, while in other cases the unsprayed trees showed very little drop and, of course, not much difference was noticed between sprayed and unsprayed trees. Since the material and its use were new to the growers, it would not seem unusual if it were improperly used in some cases.

With McIntosh the effect of the spray lasts only about eight or 10 days, while with other varieties the period of effectiveness lasts from two to three weeks. Thus, it is highly important to time the spray correctly to get the maximum effect when needed. It is suggested that application be made just prior to dropping or soon after dropping has begun. If applied too early, the effect may wear off before there is any appreciable drop on unsprayed trees. If delayed until the drop is well under-way, the spray may fail to have any effect. Warm weather seems to hasten the action, which becomes noticeable one or two days after application.

Thoroughness of application is the keynote to success, since the material must hit the stem of the fruit in order to be effective. The material is to be diluted according to the manufacturer's directions. Using a stronger solution tends to intensify the results without lengthening the period of effectiveness.

No injury to the tree, fruit, or foliage has been observed. The material also is entirely safe as far as the consumer is concerned.

It is emphasized that though this spray greatly reduces drop, it does not stop the normal ripening of fruit on the tree. Thus caution must be used not to delay picking beyond proper maturity, or the fruit may become too ripe on the tree for good handling and storage quality.

WELL-MADE COAT KEY TO QUALITY OF BOY'S SUIT

About all a normal boy asks of his clothes is that they be comfortable—and like what the other fellows are wearing.

Parents want more than that. They want suits that will stand up under the hard wear they're bound to get. Buying a suit that pleases everyone concerned is a job that puts any parent on his mettle.

Suits in stores vary greatly in quality, points out Mrs. Julia Taylor, home economics extension representative of Lawrence county. Some suits that look all right at first soon get shoddy and fall apart with the active wear a boy gives his clothes. Others will hold their shape and give good wear even with all the rough-and-tumble action of a school boy.

Parents who inspect suits carefully before making a selection will likely get much better quality for the money they spend. Hidden details, such as interlinings, tapings, stays and stitching have a great deal to do with wearing quality and appearance of a suit.

Fit is one of the first things most parents check about a suit.

A suit must fit comfortably says Mrs. Taylor, for no boy looks well or feels good in one that is too large or too small. To get the proper size, it is essential that the boy try the suit on and see how it feels and looks as he moves around. It is impossible to go by the size indicated on the label, because, so far, sizes of boys' suits are not standardized.

When it comes to judging suit quality, the suit material is the first point to check.

Worsteds are longest wearing. They also are most expensive and most likely to become shiny. Woolen suitings in good qualities are less expensive to buy than worsteds and in good quality they give satisfactory service. Their rough surface finishes do not show spots or wrinkles readily.

Cotton corduroys of good quality are hard wearing, relatively inexpensive, and practical. For school wear, suits of corduroy are classics.

According to Mrs. Taylor, the suit coat is a key to the quality of the whole suit. Unless the coat is well made and of good materials inside and out, there is no need of looking further at the trousers.

Marks of a good coat are correct cut, shoulder padding securely fastened, neat stitching around armholes, good quality lining and tapings and stays wherever there may be strain.

Necessary to any boy's happiness are good pockets and plenty of them. Pockets in which the flaps may be worn inside or out do not become baggy with use as patch pockets do.

CARE OF PULLET EGGS OF IMPORTANCE NOW

Attention must be paid to the care and handling of eggs laid by the pullets on range.

Nests should be provided in the brooder houses and shelters or special batteries of nests, built to keep out storms, may be made a part of the range equipment.

If nests are available, most of the pullets will use them when they look for places to lay. Then when the birds are housed, fewer eggs will be laid on the floor.

Cannibalism is no likely to get started when the birds lay in nests, because the pullets are not exposed in the act of laying.

Eggs laid in nests are cleaner than those laid on the ground or floor. If stolen nests are found the eggs better be used at home or candied to determine their quality before they are sent to market.

Pullet eggs laid on range usually have more color than those laid by confined flocks, and therefore must be kept separate from the other eggs. Visibility of egg shadow is one of the factors considered in egg quality.

Practically all orders used in perfumes can be produced synthetically, the Department of Commerce says.

Her Reply a Bomber

Lady MacRobert, of Douneside, Tarland, Aberdeenshire, sent 25,000 pounds sterling to the British secretary of state for war, to purchase a bomber to be called "MacRobert's Reply." One of her two sons was killed in Iraq, the other reported missing after a coastal command fight. "I have no more sons," she said. "This bomber is my reply to Hitler."

Colonel Wolfe To Speak For Shelby

One Hundred Ninetieth Field Artillery To Share Program Wednesday Night

(By JOHN BALL)

(Special News Correspondent) CAMP SHELBY, Miss., Sept. 4. The "big guns" of the famous 135th millimeter gun regiment—the 190th Field Artillery of Pennsylvania—will boom out over the airwaves next week.

Instead of displaying their firing prowess on the artillery range the 190th on Wednesday evening, September 10, is scheduled to present to national audiences the famous "first" of this regiment on the "Salute From Shelby" program, the top-notch all-army radio production over WHAS, Louisville, Ky.

This khakiized half-hour radio show is piped to affiliated CBS stations throughout the east. As the evening's highlight, the Pennsylvania artillerymen will introduce their "Grand Old Man" and commanding officer, Colonel Samuel B. Wolfe, who will deliver a brief address.

As an unique arrangement to the "Salute From Shelby," the regiment in its full color and traditional glory of the field artillery will honor Colonel Wolfe. The brilliant ceremony of the presentation of arms and standards to the colonel is to be enacted by the regiment and described to the listening audience by commentary. The military formality will be produced for the first time on this army show.

Colonel Wolfe recently returned to his command here at Shelby from Fort Sill, Okla., where he was active with a special tour of duty.

The "Salute From Shelby" is heard over WHAS weekly on Wednesday nights at 9:30 central daylight time. Listeners in Pennsylvania will tune in at 9:30 p. m. eastern standard time or 10:30 p. m. eastern daylight time.

New Castle batteries P. and Service will participate.

Bell Company Saving Metals

Substitution Program Saves Millions Of Pounds Of Metals For Defense

A saving of more than five million pounds of metals vital to defense needs, including enough aluminum to build more than 275 fighter planes, is being effected by the Bell system this year through a materials substitution program, A. D. Supple, manager for the telephone company, said today.

"Made possible through long range planning, research and readjustments in manufacturing," Mr. Supple declared, "the substituting of materials in 1941 will divert for use in defense work nearly 1,700,000 pounds of aluminum; almost a third of a million pounds of nickel; well over three million pounds of zinc, and 8,300 pounds of magnesium." He foresees additional reductions for 1942.

Daily Dozen

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Two million children are going to school for the first time. It is their first great adventure away from home.

A great variety of personalities are in this vast new army. Shy ones, bashful ones, pugnacious and bullying ones.

Some have been humored and petted, others have had little affection.

These character differences are the teacher's problems. Also, there are physical variations of serious concern.

Many children have defective hearing or faulty vision.

Others have enlarged adenoids or tonsils.

Not a few will be anemic due to improper feeding.

Most of these defects could have been prevented or cured.

Early physical examination discovers correctable defects.

State Turnpike Strongly Assailed By Hotel Men

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—The Pennsylvania Turnpike, pride and joy of the commonwealth's highways, today stood charged with being an "economic monstrosity" which is "robbing the state of millions of dollars of tourist business."

The express through-highway was scored by E. S. Shuck, president of the Central Pennsylvania Hotels Association and a speaker before the 38th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Hotels Association in Philadelphia Saturday. Shuck said the road was losing $2,000 a day and was four to five times more dangerous than the average road.

State Secretary of Commerce Mark S. James likewise criticized the Turnpike as "a dastardly thing to the hotel business." "If I were in the hotel business I would attempt to stop any extension," James said.

Chest Drive Topic For Board Tonight

Matters relating to the 1941 New Castle Community Chest campaign in October will be discussed by the Chest board of directors in the Y. W. C. A. tonight at 7:30. Frank A. Hoyer, board secretary, announced today.

Definite dates for the city-wide drive have not yet been set.

Mary Had One Lamb; A Soldier Needs 26

Mary had one little lamb, but each soldier in the United States army has to have 26 sheep to provide wool for his clothing for his first year of service.

Each enlisted soldier receives the equivalent of approximately 199 pounds of wool, as it comes from the sheep's back. The quartermaster corps says it takes the wool output of 10 sheep to provide the soldier with clothing in the beginning of his military service, and six more to maintain proper clothing stocks. Another 10 sheep are required to provide the wool for the maintenance of clothing issued to the soldier.
